

GET CONFESSION IN LUST-SLAYING

AS HURRICANE TIDE FLOODED NORFOLK

Downtown streets of Norfolk, Va., became channels for rushing torrents as ocean tides, raised far above normal by the east coast hurricane, overflowed the city. Above is a scene as the storm gripped Norfolk. An auto stands in the street, stalled by water which reached its wheel tops. The only effective means of transportation was by bicycle, one of which is shown rounding the corner at right.

LOYAL TROOPS START RETREAT

GI BRITAIN, Sept. 22.—(UP)—Spanish rebel troops, gaining momentum as they advance, are within striking distance of Toledo.

Loyalist troops on the Maqueda-toledo front are retreating to a new defensive line. Unless the rebels are stopped promptly, the loyalists besieging the Alcazar at Toledo will be besieged themselves.

Hordes of loyalist militiamen have been thrown into the battle, but the rebels have kept on. That their progress would be slowed soon, if only temporarily, was indicated by dispatches from the front, for the loyalists have not yet made their main defense. It appeared.

The rebels yesterday took Maqueda, a most important highway junction. Madrid is 43 miles to the northeast; Toledo 24 miles to the southwest.

A United Press correspondent with the loyalist advanced force saw militiamen retreating back along the Madrid highway. In anticipation of a great battle for Toledo, the entire country in the vicinity is becoming a no man's land. Villages are deserted. Abandoning Maqueda yesterday, the loyalists fell back on Quismondon, four miles toward Madrid. Militiamen, however, continued to retreat from Quismondon on to Cruz Del Retamar, another four miles along the road.

From Maqueda the rebels were expected to attack in two directions—toward Santa Cruz and toward Toledo.

The present position is this: Maqueda, Santa Cruz and the village of Torrijos form a triangle. The base is Maqueda and Santa Cruz, eight miles apart. Roads from both towns converge at Torrijos, 10 miles to the southeast, at the apex of the triangle. From Torrijos a single main road leads on 15 miles to Toledo.

It was indicated the loyalists would form their main defense line based on Santa Cruz and the Madrid road, then running roughly southward through or east of Torrijos to the River Tagus, which runs westward from Toledo.

In recognition of a desperate situation, the loyalist government today combined the Maqueda and Toledo defenses under Gen. Juan Asensio, commander-in-chief in central Spain. He will direct the

Selassie's Dog Is Banned In England

LONDON, Sept. 22.—(UP)—The mongrel dog of Haile Selassie, the emperor without a country, was also without a country today.

British authorities threatened the dog with another trip across the English channel—his fourth in three days—because he lacks proper credentials. Two days ago the dog accompanied the emperor's wife from France to Folkestone, England, but was denied entrance because he had no landing permit. Yesterday the dog returned to Folkestone from France with the landing permit but must be returned again to France unless the British ministry of agriculture grants its certificate.

Catholic Order Makes L. A. Church Diocese

WASHINGTON, Sept. 22.—(UP)—The Apostolic Delegation here today announced details of the constitution of a new ecclesiastical province at Los Angeles and erection of a new Diocese of San Diego.

The Los Angeles province will embrace the archdiocese of Los Angeles, the dioceses of Monterey-Fresno, Tucson and San Diego as Suffragan Sees.

The most Rev. John J. Cantwell, bishop of Los Angeles and San Diego was named archbishop of Los Angeles.

The new San Diego diocese will include the counties of San Diego, Imperial, Riverside and San Bernardino in California. The Church of St. Joseph in San Diego will be the cathedral church of the diocese, the delegation announced.

PARADE MARKS LEGION PARLEY

CLEVELAND, Sept. 22.—(UP)—American Legionnaires and their affiliates dispensed with convention business today for a spectacular parade of 100,000 marchers that will last 11 hours.

As a foretaste, the Forty and Eight conducted its own parade down littered Euclid avenue and into Cleveland stadium last night.

Martin A. Bleeke, deputy traffic commissioner, estimated 400,000 persons crushed in for the three and one-half hour spectacle. Estimates of today's crowd ran as high as 1,000,000.

Led by a band from Fargo, N. D., "La Societe Des Quarante Hommes et Huit Chevaux" loomed in amazing colors, rang locomotive bells, shot off miniature cannons and in general created an uproar.

Tomorrow's session will bring William Green, American Federation of Labor president, as speaker. Also on the program will be General Frank T. Hines, veterans' administrator.

Election of officers, a last order of business on Thursday, final convention day, is expected to be chosen at national commander Harry W. Colmery, of Topeka, Kan., to succeed barrel-girted Ray Murphy, of Ida Grove, Iowa.

Death Takes Noted Author-Playwright

SANTA BARBARA, Calif., Sept. 22.—(UP)—Edward Salisbury Field, prominent playwright, died last night at his mountain cabin on the shore of remote Lake Zaca, according to word received by the coroner's office here. He was 56.

DENY HITLER TO ABDICATE

BERLIN, Sept. 22.—(UP)—Reports circulated extensively by Berlin gossip that Fuehrer Adolf Hitler is considering giving up the chancellorship in behalf of Herman Wilhelm Goerring were emphatically denied by official and private sources today.

An official of Goerring's staff said: "That's just another bad egg which somebody is trying to hatch."

Since 1934, there has been talk of making Goerring a deputy for Hitler in routine governmental matters, just as Rudolph Hess is a deputy in Nazi party affairs.

Many conservative groups have been discussing the matter, because they believe Goerring's well-known conservatism would serve to fend off radical measures, especially in the economic field.

It has never gone beyond the talking stage, however, and people close to Hitler believe he never will relinquish the chancellorship except in the extremely remote event that he creates himself a regent or something similar.

DEFUNCT LOAN CO. VOTES DIVIDENDS

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 22.—(UP)—A dividend of $500,000 for the 16,000 stockholders in the defunct Guarantee Building and Loan association was voted last night by directors of the Guarantee Liquidating corporation.

The payment of 15 cents per share of preferred stock is the first return to investors in the association since it crashed in 1930 after Gilbert H. Beesemeyer confessed embezzling $3,000,000 for which he was sentenced to San Quentin prison.

The revelation came as the committee, headed by Sen. Robert M. La Follette, P., Wis., resumed its inquiry into alleged denial of the civil rights of labor in industrial communities.

Depression Nets Agency Millions

WASHINGTON, Sept. 22.—(UP)—Senate investigators today revealed income tax statements showing gross profits of $1,210,000 were earned during four depression years by Railway Audit and Inspection Co., detective agency of Pittsburgh under investigation by the senate civil liberties committee.

The revelation came as the committee, headed by Sen. Robert M. La Follette, P., Wis., resumed its inquiry into alleged denial of the civil rights of labor in industrial communities.

STATE BOARD GIVEN POWER IN NEW RULE

Attorney General Declares Licenses May Be Revoked Temporarily in Area

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 22.—(UP)—State Attorney General U. S. Webb, in a ruling to the State Board of Equalization, held today that the board may, if it sees fit, revoke temporarily the licenses of all liquor establishments in the Salinas strike area.

Webb quoted an amendment to the state constitution which provided that "the State Board of Equalization shall have the power in its discretion to revoke any specific liquor licenses if it shall be determined that the continuance of such licenses shall be contrary to public welfare."

Webb then held that "unquestionably, where a strike of wide proportion is imminent and there is danger of violence, the board is justified in revoking all licenses in the area affected."

THREATEN LETTUCE WILL "ROT ON RAILS"

SALINAS, Cal., Sept. 22.—(UP)—Salinas valley lettuce, constituting a majority of the nation's supply, will "rot on the rails" when and if it reaches eastern market terminals, strike leaders warned the growers-shippers association today.

"We can't stop shippers from shipping lettuce any more than longshoremen could keep ships from sailing," said Michael Shevlin, president of the fruit and vegetable workers' union, whose members are on strike here.

"But we can see that this lettuce rots on the railroad tracks. We have definite information that no lettuce has arrived in the east. Our men are there waiting for the stuff to show up."

RICHFIELD OIL MERGER OKED

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 22.—(UP)—Merging of Richfield Oil company with the petroleum interests of Harry F. Sinclair has won the approval of a majority of Richfield bondholders and unsecured creditors, a report on file in federal court disclosed today.

The preliminary report said that only a small percentage of the deposited bonds have been withdrawn, the method fixed for those disapproving of the proposed merger to show their objection.

Federal Judge William P. James ordered a hearing on the plan for October 2 when those disapproving will be permitted to give their arguments against merging the companies.

Approval of two-thirds of the bondholders and unsecured creditors is necessary before the reorganization committee can proceed with reorganization under the national bankruptcy act.

Among organizations listed in the report as approving the proposed merger were:

New Glider Record Claimed by Russia

ROSTOV, U. S. S. R., Sept. 22.—(UP)—A world record for sustained flight in a glider was claimed today by I. L. Kartashev, of Moscow, who, after cutting loose from a tow plane, glided 540 kilometers (approximately 335 miles) "landing in the Kalink republic."

The previous world record was 504 kilometers, established in Germany in 1935.

HOLD NEW DEAL "RED TAINTED"

WASHINGTON, Sept. 22.—(UP)—The Republican national committee today charged "the New Deal was tainted with communism from its very inception."

The committee's statement quoted extensively from the book, "Why Quit Our Own," written by George N. Peek and Samuel Crowther.

Peek formerly was associated with the president's so-called "brain trust."

Secretary of Agriculture Henry A. Wallace, however, took exception to the charges of William Randolph Hearst that President Roosevelt's re-election would indirectly aid the Communist party.

"The capitalist system is much more likely to be perpetuated under President Roosevelt than under Governor Landon," Wallace said.

Henry J. Allen, former U. S. senator from Kansas and friend of Gov. Alf M. Landon, Republican presidential nominee, told a Republican rally he would not accuse the New Dealers of being communists but he would vote for them if he were a communist.

The Republican National committee said the Roosevelt administration aimed at bringing about "socialization of the farmers and the crushing of private business."

"The men who advocated revolution, who calmly discussed the amount of 'blood that ought to be shed,' are still in Roosevelt's confidence and controlling his actions despite countless disclosures of their line of thought—their hatred of the American system of government, both economic and political—their admiration of the Russian system," the statement said.

Peek is quoted by the Republican statement as saying "a certain group" felt relief work "should be pushed forward with the intent of driving the whole country on relief and thus making the capitalistic system commit suicide."

Peek is quoted as saying another group opposed relief because "hungry men revolt sooner than fed men."

HOWARD TO RECEIVE BLOOD TRANSFUSION

CROWN POINT, N. M., Sept. 22.—(UP)—Benny O. Howard, Bendix air racer who crashed in the Navajo Indian reservation near here two weeks ago, will be given a blood transfusion early today, physicians said.

Hospital attaches worked throughout the night, preparing for the transfusion, which, it was believed, would mean the difference between life and death for the flier.

Due to Howard's changing condition the doctors were prepared to make the transfusion at the "most suitable moment."

LEGION HALL IS SELECTED FOR CLASSES

Jane Kruse Will Instruct at Sessions Scheduled to Open Tomorrow

THOUGH home duties may be slighted in hundreds of homes throughout Santa Ana tomorrow, it will be only in order that the home managers may learn better methods of performing those duties, for tomorrow is the opening day of the big Register cooking school, when the curtain will rise at 2 o'clock on a perfectly appointed kitchen and upon one of the finest cookery courses ever offered to the women in Santa Ana.

Santa Ana housewives were advised to come to the American Legion hall, between Third and Fourth streets on Birch street, early, because there is no doubt but what every available seat will be filled. Cooperating with The Register in staging this colorful, modern school of cookery is the Red & White company and the J. C. Horton Furniture company.

Jane Kruse, Director. Miss Jane Kruse, who arrived here Sunday to supervise personally all details in connection with the school, said today that because of the wealth of research work with foods during the past year, her program is one of the most interesting and useful she has ever been able to offer her audiences.

Important new discoveries concerning meat cookery, with many delicious recipes for the use of the more inexpensive cuts, and left-overs, together with a discussion of the place of meat in the diet, will occupy a good place in the programs. Miss Kruse considers this an especially timely subject, and points out that the relatively high cost of meat makes necessary careful planning in its purchase.

FOR PLANNING NEW FARM AID

HYDE PARK, N. Y., Sept. 22.—(UP)—President Roosevelt concerned himself almost entirely today with plans for a recommendation to the next congress that, if adopted, would enable thousands of tenant farmers to buy farms of their own.

On the heels of two other announcements of plans for agricultural reforms, he revealed through release of the text of letters written to Sen. John H. Bankhead, D. Ala., and Rep. Marvin Jones, D. Tex., that he believes the federal government should finance, at low interest rates and with long term notes, the purchase by reputable tenant farmers of the land they farm.

He asked Bankhead and Jones to help him frame a concrete proposal of legislation to effect it.

"Any long time improvement of the welfare of the nation and of farm people involves improvement of the tenancy situation," he said.

Only yesterday he created a committee to study a crop insurance plan.

Plan Services For Prominent Surgeon

SAN DIEGO, Cal., Sept. 22.—(UP)—Last rites were being arranged today for Dr. Henry Park Newman, 82, prominent surgeon and former treasurer of the American Medical association, Dr. Newman died at his home yesterday after a brief illness.

He is survived by his wife, a son, Willard Newman, San Diego, and a daughter, Mrs. Helen Shaw of Pasadena. A brother, Joseph W. Newman, lives in Chicago.

WILL OPERATE TO SAVE CHILD

CHICAGO, Sept. 22.—(UP)—Dr. Lewis K. Eastman said this afternoon he would heed the plea of the mother of five-day-old Julian Tafel, Jr., and operate in an attempt to save the child's life.

The baby was born without a lower colon and his body had no way of eliminating waste. Physicians agreed that unless an operation was performed he would die.

Dr. Eastman made his announcement after hours were spent in a fruitless search for the baby's father, who disappeared after he protested against the operation for fear the child would be a permanent cripple.

The child was slowly starving to death at Danish American hospital. He was born with part of the lower colon missing, and has no means of eliminating bodily waste matter.

Surgeons said the means of elimination can be provided by an incision in his side. The child would have a 50-50 chance to live, said Dr. Lewis K. Eastman, hospital chief of staff, but the question was "for how long?"

The mother, Mrs. Eva Tafel, 22, wanted to gamble on the operation. "I want him," she cried. "He's my baby. I love him."

The father, Julian, stood resolute against the operation. "Why should I learn to love

SUSPECT IN INSTITUTION TELLS STORY

Man Arrested as Suspect Tells of Murdering Y. W. C. A. Secretary

SAN DIEGO, Cal., Sept. 22.—(UP)—Donald J. Hazell, 30, muscular inmate of the Patton institution for the insane, has "confessed" he is the person who killed Ruth Muir, 48-year-old spinster and Y.W.C.A. leader, as she sat watching the moon over the ocean at swank La Jolla the night of August 31, Chief of Police George Sears said today.

Sears, who explained no charges had been made against Hazell, said the story was being checked in detail. If it appears there is basis for it and it is not the ramblings of a disordered mind, Hazell, already held under guard, will be taken to an institution for the criminally insane, Sears said.

WILL OPERATE TO SAVE CHILD

Hazell first entered the case September 5 when he was apprehended in La Jolla in front of a church the day of the inquest into Miss Muir's death. He was babbling incoherently of the crime and was returned to San Diego for questioning. After a short stay in the county hospital psychopathic ward, he was returned to Patton, from which he had been paroled previously. A brother also is in the institution.

Members of Hazell's family living in San Diego said he was at home the night of the slaying. Hazell is a powerfully-built man, 6 feet 1 inch in height and weighing 220 pounds. He has unusually strong arms and legs.

Sears said the purported confession outlined in detail the asserted crime. He seemed quite familiar with the beach area, Sears said, but was said to have frequented it often in search of abortions.

KENNETT SITE IN WATER PLAN

SACRAMENTO, Cal., Sept. 22.—(UP)—Kennett damsite has not been abandoned as a key unit of the Central Valley water project, Earl Lee Kelly, state director of public works said today in explaining activities of engineers in exploring other dam sites on the Sacramento river.

Kelly said that it might be necessary to go slightly deeper to find solid rock at Kennett than first was anticipated, but that no geological faults had been found as had been reported.

Newspaper Guild's Case Is Concluded

SEATTLE, Sept. 22.—(UP)—The American Newspaper Guild's case in the labor relations board hearing caused by the Post-Intelligencer strike drew to a close today after the suspended newspaper attorney, Edward Woods, sought to prove through cross-examination that Frank Lynch, discharged photographer, was "inefficient."

The guild, whose members struck in protest to the dismissal of Lynch and Everhardt Armstrong, charged in its complaint to the board that the Post-Intelligencer acted unfairly and dismissed the pair for activity in the union organization.

Believe Hurricane May Miss Florida

MIAMI, Fla., Sept. 22.—(UP)—A tropical hurricane located over the Atlantic ocean about equidistant from Nassau and Bermuda moved slowly today, apparently toward the northeast.

NUISANCE AT WESTMINSTER IS ALLEVIATED

Conditions causing complaint of Westminster citizens regarding odors emanating from oil refuse reservoirs maintained by Ralph Gray of Long Beach, near that town, have been partially alleviated. District Attorney W. E. Menton reported today, and injunction proceedings to cure the situation may not be necessary, he said.

Menton investigated the matter yesterday, and conferred with Gray. He learned that sulphuric acid, forming part of the waste matter being stored, has been eliminated, and that objectionable odors as a result have been materially lessened.

It appears, said Menton, that the nuisance will be entirely removed shortly. However, if it is not, the district attorney stands ready to take court action to abate it, he said.

There are four dairies located within a quarter-mile of the Gray reservoirs, and the district attorney is apprehensive, he said, that the acid fumes might taint the milk of these dairies, if permitted to continue.

The sticky substance accumulated in the reservoirs, said Menton, will at least have the virtue of driving all mosquitoes from the community, the owner stating that he has a contract with the Los Angeles county health department to supply a preparation from the waste matter for that purpose. The residue would be used for fertilizer.

One mudhen and one chicken hawk, who made the error of landing in the reservoir, were promptly swallowed by the mixture, Menton said.

ROOSTERS, DUCKS BRING COMPLAINTS

A bird in the hand is worth much more than a bird in the neighbor's back yard, according to several complaints entered with city police last night and yesterday. A resident of the 1200-block, South Van Ness, told Officers Ralph Pantuso and J. W. Foster he would dispose of his rooster "in the morning," after they investigated a complaint the bird was crowing with too much gusto. The same officers were informed by a resident of the 1000-block, West Bishop, that he would dispose of his ducks right away, without soliciting advice from Joe Penner or anyone else. Neighbors had complained the ducks were being maintained too close to their homes.

On complaint of neighbors, a resident of the 1700-block, West Seventeenth, advised Assistant Chief Harry Fink, he no longer would permit his peafowl to wander about the neighborhood. Crowing roosters in the 1000-block, West Fifth, caused insomnia. Neighbors complained. The owner informed police she would dispose of the roosters at once.

Dog poisoners may be active in Santa Ana, it was revealed today by Mrs. Robert J. Heffner, 1227 West Eighth street, after she complained to city police.

FALLS ASLEEP IN THEATER; FINDS HIMSELF LOCKED IN

Either the motion pictures lacked vividness or Blair Little, 107 North Barton street, was "powerful sleepy" when he went to the Broadway theater last night.

Completely abandoned—alone and lonesome—Little awakened at 5 a. m. today to find himself still seated in the middle of the vacant theater. And what's more, he couldn't get out of the place!

Sending an emergency telephone call to the Santa Ana police department, Little saved himself from further incarceration if not embarrassment. Officers W. E. B. Sherwood and L. C. Snodgrass went to the rescue. They gave Little explicit instructions as to the proper door to use in exiting from a building; then they left a note for Manager Les Fountain, telling him all about Little's strange predicament. Little indicated, as he left for home, that he might take an aspirin before he goes to the next show.

ADMINISTRATOR IS NAMED BY COURT IN FRARY ESTATE

C. H. Connett today won a contest with Mrs. Pearl Church for appointment as administrator of the late Richard Frary's estate, after a hearing of their respective claims by Superior Judge H. G. Ames.

Appointment of Connett, nominee of Frary's sister, who is his heir, was opposed by Mrs. Church, stepdaughter of Frary, who based her claim upon Oklahoma law.

Frary and his wife, who predeceased him, acquired their property in Oklahoma and later moved to California. They later acquired property in California, valued at about $5000, in addition to property in Oklahoma.

In support of Connett's petition for administration, his attorneys, Fred Forgy and J. K. Read, contended that a joint tenancy existed between the husband and wife, and at the wife's death, the property passed to the husband, the wife's heirs having no further interest in it.

Attorney Benjamin Shipman, representing Mrs. Church, daughter of Mrs. Frary by a former marriage, cited Oklahoma law to show that the heirs of both husband and wife have equal share in their estate, regardless of which dies first. He also cited California court decisions holding that California law would not supersede the law of the other state in such cases; by reason of the fact that the couple had moved to this state.

While recognizing the merit of this contention, so far as it applied to the distribution of the estate, Judge Ames stated that it did not apply to California procedure in the administration of an estate. The court therefore granted Connett's petition.

BIRTHS

PHILLIPS—To Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Phillips, 207 South Artesia street, Santa Ana, at Orange county hospital, September 20, 1936, a son.

DEATH NOTICES

A WORD OF COMFORT

Occasionally the obsession grips you that you have nothing worth while to give to the world and that it makes no real difference whether you are weak or faithful. Because you seem to have lost what is dearest to you, you conclude that you will no longer care what happens or what the world thinks of you.

It is a blessing that such moods do not last long for they involve misery and shame to you along with hurt to others. In the depths of your heart you know that God cares and that there is eternal worth and significance to what He counts upon your doing and becoming.

McDOWELL—At her home in La Habra, September 21, 1936, Arvilla Mae McDowell, age 59 years. She is survived by her husband, Charles McDowell. Announcement of funeral later by Brown and Wagner.

WINTERBOURNE—At El Modena, Calif., September 22, 1936, the Rev. George Winterbourne, aged 73 years. He is survived by four sons, John Winterbourne, of Santa Ana; Earl L., of Costa Mesa; George E., and Ernest M., Winterbourne, of Denver, Colorado; two daughters, Mrs. Helen Beardsley, of Santa Ana and Mrs. Bertha Nott, of Denver. He was a retired Methodist minister, and lived in Santa Ana for the last 12 years. Funeral services will be held from the Winbiger Mortuary chapel, 609 North Main street, Thursday, September 24, at 2 p. m. The Rev. George A. Warner, pastor of the First Methodist church officiating. TUSTIN IS HOST TO TWO GROUPS IN CONVENTION

Tustin was host today to meetings of two groups, the Orange County Women's Christian Temperance union and the Los Angeles Presbytery. The latter organization held a one day session, while the W. C. T. U. will meet again tomorrow in connection with its 47th annual convention.

The W. C. T. U. meeting included annual reports, appointment of committees, a talk by Harry Lewis on the local option campaign and reports of directors. Election of officers will take place tomorrow.

The Rev. Calvin Duncan, pastor of the Tustin Presbyterian church, host to the presbytery session, was in charge of the meeting. Church officials from all parts of Southern California were present. The Rev. Theo. P. Smith, moderator of the district, preached at this morning's meeting following a business session. Reports of church activities were heard this afternoon.

NEW LEADERS IN CHEST DRIVE ARE ANNOUNCED

Completion of the selections of leaders for the various departments of the Community Chest Campaign was announced today by D. G. Tidball, general chairman for the Business Division and the Public Employee Units. All leaders are now enrolling their soliciting forces which will total more than 400 volunteer men and women.

Jules Markel was announced as chairman of the Business Districts with the responsibility of organizing for the solicitation of all stores, offices and other places of business in the downtown district not handled by the Establishment division which handles places of business having a larger number of employees.

Public Employee units will be headed by the following chairmen who will organize campaign groups in each public office or department:

City Employees, Lloyd Banks; County and State Employees, W. K. Hilliard; Federal Employees, Frank Harwood; School teachers and employees, Frank A. Henderson.

At the campaign council meeting Monday noon at the Green Cat cafe E. M. Sundquist, president of the Community Chest, expressed the appreciation of the board of directors for the cooperation and assistance being given the campaign by the press and radio.

Mr. Sundquist said: "The newspapers are giving the campaign the best publicity that we have ever had. I feel that the acceptance of responsibility on the part of the press for supporting the campaign editorially as well as in the news columns is going to be a deciding factor in success this year. Throughout the community there is a feeling of optimism and determination to make the campaign a success."

"We want to get the story of the needs of the Community Chest charity and welfare organizations to every person who lives in Santa Ana or earns his income here. We know that when these needs are understood each person will accept his share of responsibility according to his means."

Next Monday, September 23, has been set as the date for completion of the organization. Some units of the campaign will begin work that week and the campaign will be officially launched at a kick-off dinner to be attended by every member of the campaign organization on the evening of October 1 at a place to be decided upon within the next few days.

KEN Murray SAYS:

NEW YORK, Sept. 22.—Sounds like a bit of Russia to read of Attorney General Cummings saying that there is a heavy fine, or jail sentence, for any merchant who displays placards showing what part of the purchase price of an article is represented by taxes....If such is the case, the government shouldn't be allowed to publish the cost of WPA projects. After all, those figures represent all taxes.

Seems to me that the main trouble with business now is that it gets too few orders from the customers, and too many from the administration.

What's the use of the government trying to play it down when, for instance, taxes have advanced the price of meat up to where the country is now divided into two classes....Those with big incomes, and vegetarians.

So Remember:

Nothing may be sure but death and taxes, but you can at least publish obituaries.

BREAKFAST CLUB TO INITIATE TWENTY

Members of the Santa Ana Breakfast club expect to have a lot of fun at the regular weekly meeting Thursday morning at 7:30 o'clock in the Main cafeteria, when initiation of a large group of new members will take place. It was announced today by President Edward T. Cochems.

There are at least 20 new members required to take the Breakfast club "initiation," Cochems said. The initiation ceremonies planned will be unique, but not rough, it was stated.

Members of the committee in charge of initiation include Hunter Leach, chairman, Jess Elliott, C. F. Skirvin and Tom Lett.

CLAUDE M'DOWELL RESIGNS POST IN WEBER BAKING CO.

Claude McDowell, manager of the Weber Baking company in Santa Ana for the last nine years has tendered his resignation to accept a position as sales manager of the Kilpatrick Baking company plants in San Francisco and Oakland.

Vaughn De Fries, formerly assistant manager of the Weber company here and for the last two years in charge of the plant at San Bernardino will succeed McDowell as manager in Santa Ana.

McDowell came to the Santa Ana bakery from Long Beach nine years ago when the Kilpatrick Baking company constructed the present plant on North Main street. Later the company's plant and offices here were taken over by the Weber Baking company and McDowell remained as manager.

McDowell will leave some time next week with his wife for San Francisco and will take charge of the Kilpatrick plant immediately upon his arrival in the north.

At the present time McDowell holds the office of lecturing knight in the Santa Ana lodge of Elks and also is an officer with the Knights Templar.

FACTORY HEARING SET FOR OCTOBER 5

Upon recommendation of city planning commission, city council last night ordered notices of hearing posted and set hearing date as October 5, 7:30 p. m., for the request of H. J. Succop and Sons that a special permit be granted

FINES PAID BY 8 SPEEDERS IN POLICE COURT

Eight speeders, a drunk driver and a reckless driver, all of whom pleaded guilty, were fined in city court yesterday by Acting City Judge John Landell.

Charles McDonald, Compton, was fined $150 after pleading guilty to the drunk driving charge; returned here from Riverside county, Fernando Cruz Espinoza, 26, Thermal, was fined $35 for reckless driving but went to jail for 17½ days in lieu of paying.

Speeders were Arthur R. Lorton, 950 West Pine, Santa Ana, $6; Ralph Greer, Anaheim, $6; Tom Crodry, 801 West Third, Santa Ana, whose driver's license was suspended for six months but who was permitted to drive his father's truck on Saturdays and Sundays; Alfred Eberth, Orange, $8; Dick McAllister, Irvine, $8; Harry Williams, Monrovia, $8; Louis Sharon, 507 South Ross, Santa Ana, $6; George Flint, Redlands, $8, and Walter Hommel, Costa Mesa, $6. Roy Corry and Dorothy Forgy each paid $2 for running boulevard stops. Edward Sterling, George Dawson and Helen Parker paid $1 each for illegal parking.

"We know of no reason why anyone should object," Succop declared. "The manufacturing is completely sanitary, there is no odor and no noise. The place formerly was occupied by a garage, we understand."

BE DEBATED AT FORUM TONIGHT

"It may not be the jolliest subject under discussion in the United States today but it is the most important," W. H. (Ted) Blanding said today of the income tax problem, in announcing tonight's debate at the Junior college building, 917 North Main street, before the Forum for Political and Economic Education.

Upon the debate subject, "Resolved, that the State Income Tax Be Repealed," R. C. Hoiles, publisher of The Register, will take the affirmative and Sharpless Walker, attorney, will take the negative. The debate begins at 8 o'clock, with each speaker allowed 20 minutes to present the arguments. Following the presentation of arguments, the audience will be permitted to question the speakers and present their own views.

"People who do not pay a direct income tax are the very ones for whom the income tax problem is the most important," Blanding, meeting chairman, said today. "It seems that almost every person thinks he is escaping the income tax because he does not pay it directly. The income tax question is one of right or wrong—ethics—and not one of politics. As an ethical problem, the income tax problem is the most important one which the people, through their government, have to solve. "The speakers," Blanding continued, "have made a thorough study of the income tax subject and will be able to present many points which the average voter has not thought about." The public is invited to the forum. There is no charge.

In 1831, Sir James Ross determined the location of the north magnetic pole at 70 degrees five minutes north latitude and 96 degrees 43 minutes west longitude.

SHERIFF SAYS NO VIOLATION ON BEACH ROAD

Following receipt of a letter by the board of supervisors today, from Sheriff Logan Jackson, reporting that no violation of county ordinance existed at the Huntington Beach location where Chairman John Mitchell had complained that oil and water from adjoining oil wells were being allowed to run upon the highway, District Attorney W. F. Menton and Arthur B. Beard, assistant highway superintendent, confirmed Jackson's statement.

Menton told Mitchell that he and Beard had investigated the case and found no evidence of water or oil accumulating at the location. Seventeenth and Garfield, although formerly some had been dumped there. The water, they learned, came from a broken water pipe, which the oil company immediately repaired.

Other than a small amount of condensation from steam, no water is now flowing at that point, Menton said.

If there is found to be any water dumped there intentionally, we shall prosecute under the ordinance, he told Chairman Mitchell. He added that there is no ordinance, however, to cover the dumping of oil on the highway.

Mitchell explained today that he had demanded action from the sheriff last week because some people were accusing him of taking money from the oil companies to permit them to run waste upon the highways.

GERMANY TOPIC OF DISCUSSION AT ROTARY CLUB

Members of the Santa Ana Rotary club at their noon meeting in Green Cat cafe today, heard an informative discussion of conditions as they exist in Germany today by Lieut. Alden C. Alley, recently returned from Germany.

The speaker was introduced by Program Chairman Frank Henderson.

In his address, the speaker traced the development of Nazism. Pointed out its strong points, its weaknesses and its dangers. The whole thing, he said, is founded on Hitler's philosophy of co-operation—placing common welfare before personal welfare. Behind this philosophy, which Alley termed "fundamentally at fault and dangerous," is the fact that the theory is based upon Hitler's own conception of co-operation. His philosophy is the type which means, "you either co-operate with me, or you face the firing squad or concentration camp."

Hitler has left no place for the type of co-operation which will result in admission that he may be wrong.

"Hitler's theory has resulted in a complete suppression of human freedom," the speaker told Rotarians. "There is not one single German who is master of his own mind or soul. The great universities have degenerated to the point where they are now simply institutes of propaganda insofar as the social sciences are concerned."

defense up to Toledo. The siege of the Alcazar will be continued under Maj. Jose Torres.

There has been no indication that the rebel drive can be stopped except the continued tone of confidence in Madrid and the fact that the main body of loyalist militiamen dispatched to the front have not been in action—have never been in action in their lives, most of them, and hardly know how to fire their rifles.

COUNTY EXHIBIT AT FAIR TAKES CASH

The Orange county exhibit at the state fair in Sacramento and the Southern California fair in Pomona won more than double the cash prize money this year that it garnered last year, the county supervisors were notified today by D. W. Tubbs, county agricultural commissioner. The winnings this year were $1244 at the two fairs, as compared to $612 last year.

Prize money captured this year will pay the cost of the exhibit, Tubbs stated, the only additional cost being maintenance of the exhibit.

Last year the county exhibit won $243 at Sacramento and $263 at Pomona. This year's exhibit won $684 at Sacramento and $569 at Pomona.

Court Notes

Mrs. Juana Salazar and three children, Ylaria, Seneencia and Roseta, today asked $10,000 damages in a suit against Carrie Lou Sutherland and Mr. and Mrs. James Sutherland, for the death of Blas Salazar, husband and father of the plaintiffs, who was victim of an automobile accident last August 5.

NEWBERT DISTRICT SEEKS DISSOLUTION

An aggregate of 11,678 acres of land in the Newbert protection district, which comprises a total of 19,000 acres, has signed petitions seeking to dissolve the district. County Surveyor W. K. Hilyard reported to the county supervisors today.

Residents of the district first filed petitions for dissolution several weeks ago, and Hilyard was delegated to check the petitions to determine their sufficiency.

Newbert is one of the oldest protection districts in the county.

chase and preparation, hence she will give considerable time to this phase of the meal.

Delightful Recipes

Meat cookery, however, is only one of the many interesting topics on Miss Kruse's program. There will also be many delightful recipes for new desserts, hot bread, vegetables, and helpful suggestions for every meal of the day; there will be plans for entertaining, that will be most welcome to the woman who is to be hostess at any type of social function during the fall season. Indeed, Miss Kruse's program is so well arranged that it contains much of interest and value to every woman, and it is hoped that no one who has an opportunity to attend will miss a minute of these cookery sessions. From the time the curtain goes up on the beautifully equipped stage, until the last prize is given, the school promises swift-moving entertainment, many surprises not to be announced ahead of time, and a program of practical help to women with their own every-day meal planning and cooking.

Many valuable prizes will be given away to women attending sessions of the cooking school tomorrow, Thursday and Friday.

Colmery appeared to have enough delegate votes to win easily.

New York City appeared well out in front as host for next year's convention.

Ingenuity went to new limits in devising new methods of celebrating today. A puzzled pig, hitched to a miniature Ford and Eight car, waddled through a hotel lobby. A horse was tethered in another.

Despite pleas by Murphy that Legionnaires "be your age," (the average Legionnaire is 42) two frolicsers cavorted in feminine attire, rouged and be-wigged.

Two women victims of a Nebraska electric-shock machine weren't so easy. They kicked him sharply on the shins. Another larger than he menaced him with a doubled fist.

The convention was launched on a keynote of peace.

Newton D. Baker, secretary of war in the Wilson cabinet, and Sen. Bennett Champ Clark, D., Mo., in addresses yesterday stressed that the Legion can be a motivating force to keep the United States out of war.

Asks Annulment Of Her Marriage

Mrs. Ethel M. Bouldin today asked superior court to annul her marriage to Homer E. Bouldin, whom she took for her second husband, believing her first to be dead, only to find afterward that he still lived, although he had since passed away.

She married Leon Bassett in Los Angeles March 2, 1930, and separated from him a year later, in March, 1931. He was in a Los Angeles hospital, victim of tuberculosis, and she worked in Santa Ana. His parents removed him to New York without her knowledge, she stated, and for two years she knew nothing of his whereabouts.

Late in 1931 a friend told her, she said, because of his known condition, so she married Bouldin at Tia Juana a year later, December 31, 1932.

Then, in March of 1933, she learned that Bassett was alive in a Los Angeles hospital. She immediately separated from Bouldin, she stated. Bassett died November 15, 1933, the wife states.

W. L. OPERATE TO SAVE CHILD

This child, only to lose him in a few years," he asked.

Eastman explained he could not operate without consent of both parents. He is a close personal friend of the family.

The child was born Sept. 17, and appeared normal in every way. He weighed 8 pounds, 13 1/2 ounces, and was described by attendants as a "fine looking boy." The malformation was discovered after hospital attendants noticed he was in difficulty.

"There is no chance whatever for the baby to live unless the operation is performed," Eastman told the parents. "He is slowly starving to death, because his body can't absorb enough nourishment."

"We can't let him die without trying to do something," Mrs. Tafel cried. "It would be a sin not to give him a chance to live."

Tafel, worried almost to the point of tears, contended "it would be a sin to let the poor child live."

"He would probably be bed-ridden for life, and when he came to understanding, if he did, he would curse us for letting him live."

Tafel fears the child will always require attention. He pointed out by his means are limited, his wife would have to give the child all the attention it required, and might be forced to neglect the welfare of their normal and healthy daughter, Cornelia, who is two and a half years old.

"I can't allow it," he said.

The father is a graduate of DePaul Academy, and a garage mechanic.

Eastman said there are no religious scruples to interfere with the decision the parents must make.

Until the parents decide whether to permit an operation, the child is being fed with a small eye dropper. Doctors hope his tortured body will absorb enough nourishment to sustain him for a few hours, or few days.

Three nurses are in attendance, and will remain until the parents decide definitely whether to permit the operation.

"With every passing hour, the baby becomes weaker," Eastman said. "With each passing hour, his chances of even surviving the operation become less."

"I am still standing behind the reports of our engineers that the Kennett site is sound economically and from the standpoint of engineering," Kelly said.

The director pointed out that federal engineers were "exhausting every possibility" by making explorations at the Baird site below the confluence of the Pit and McCloud rivers and at Table Mountain 12 miles north of Red Bluff.

These activities, it was reported, had led to rumors the Kennett site had been abandoned.

Kelly said the proposed Iron canyon site was not being considered by federal engineers.

He estimated that the possible additional cost that may be necessitated at Kennett would be offset in the case of the other dams where higher condemnation costs assertedly would be unavoidable.

STENOTYPE IS USED IN LOCAL COURT

The steno-type, most advanced form of official court stenography, was used for the first time in Orange county superior court today.

John W. Lapoint, Los Angeles court reporter and author of a textbook on use of the steno-type, operated the machine in making the record of a hearing in Superior Judge H. G. Ames' court. He used the machine extensively in U. S. district court, Los Angeles.

The steno-type is a "shorthand" typewriter. Operators of the machine use an abbreviated form of writing on the machine, similar to shorthand.

The machine operates soundlessly.

SALOONS FACE TEMPORARY BAN

The lettuce, which is being moved from fields to shipping sheds and packed with the aid of non-union labor, has been labelled "hot" by the Salinas Central Labor Council and the State Federation of Labor.

Both groups have asked transportation unions and warehousemen throughout the country to refuse to handle the carloads shipped under strike conditions.

While the Growers-Shippers association prepared to expand their packing and loading activities to nearly full-time capacity in defiance of the strikers, the Fruit and Vegetable Workers union held a strike meeting and heard Joseph Casey, organizer for the American Federation of Labor, demand that agitators in Salinas be "thrown out."

"We must rout out the subversive elements in this situation," Casey said.

Commenting that "it looks like a long, hard fight," Casey recommended careful planning of the future of the strike and as a result, a committee of six was chosen to act as a board of strategy. This comprised members of the Box-makers' Union, Teamsters' Union and Fruit and Vegetable Workers' Union.

Last night's meeting climaxed a day in which strikers, divided into details, searched the city for Communist handbills and as a result, a committee of six was chosen to act as a board of strategy. This comprised members of the Box-makers' Union, Teamsters' Union and Fruit and Vegetable Workers' Union.

While strikers resumed picketing of packing sheds, Gov. Frank F. Merriam prepared to open an arbitration hearing in Sacramento with a committee from the State Federation of Labor and a group representing the Growers-Shippers association present.

Michael Shevlin, president of the Fruit and Vegetable Workers' union, said he had little hope the conference would be successful.

"You can't arbitrate a principle," he said, referring to the preferential hiring demand which caused the strike. The State Federation committee will not speak with authority for the strikers. The proposals will be submitted to the union for approval.

Gov. Merriam, when informed in Hanford yesterday that picketing had resumed in the strike area, said:

"It is the strikers' privilege to picket without violence."

Commenting on the strike itself, the governor said:

"Everything is in good shape now, and I have hopes that the whole issue will be settled shortly."

He will meet the two committees at 10 a. m. today.

The Salinas citizens welfare league met last night with George Pollock, attorney, presiding, and about 300 members present. They drew up 13 demands "for the protection of the citizens, shippers and growers."

These demands, which will be forwarded to Gov. Merriam, possibly President Roosevelt and other high governmental and state officials, included:

Abolition of tear gas bombs and long range gas guns in the strike area; the right of lawful assembly; courtesy from state and city officers; rout lettuce trucks off the main city streets; prohibit minors from carrying firearms; sobriety of officers; elimination of unofficial "co-ordinators."

The league was informed that two unidentified men who were on Salinas streets during a clash between strikers and guards last week were going blind from effect of a tear gas bomb explosion.

The league promised a complete investigation of the case.

INDIAN CHIEFS POSE

POCATELLO, Ida. (UP)—Artists of this state are finding new and interesting portraiture work in painting the Sioux Indians, once fierce enemies of the white race. Among the "models" are Chief Johnnie Ballard, Tea Pokebro and Chief Sunrise.

Local Briefs

Firemen were called to the home of W. F. Brown, 1234 South Parton, at 9:20 o'clock last night to investigate report of a gas leak in the refrigerator. Early in the evening, the fire department was called to the P. C. Dieter Paint company store, 602 North Broadway, to extinguish burning oil rags which apparently were set afire by combustion. The rags, in a bucket, caused no damage except from smoke.

Emmett C. Rogers was granted permit yesterday by Building Inspector Sam Preble to construct a 7-room frame and stucco residence, with garage, for $6000, at 2449 North Park boulevard. The Sees Candy Shops, incorporated, 1121-2 West Fourth, was granted permit to make alterations to its store room at cost of $1500.

TERMITES ATTACK CORNERSTONE!

When it was apparent in 1932 that the tide was rising strongly against the Hoover Administration, a mighty "scare campaign" was inaugurated to the effect that "grass will grow in the streets of 1,100 cities" if the Democrats were elected to office.

History is repeating itself. Sensing another overwhelming defeat in November, Republican leaders have launched a desperate campaign to shake public confidence in the credit of the United States Government and in the safety of bank deposits and insurance policies.

The chief political offenders in the bogey-man campaign are Col. Frank Knox and John D. Hamilton—the tiny termites so graphically pictured in the cartoon above.

Col. Knox made the amazing statement at Allentown, Pa., that "Today no life insurance policy is secure; no savings account is safe." Chairman Hamilton backed him up and added that the banks "were safer" in 1932 than they are now.

WHAT ARE THE FACTS?

Six executives of the largest insurance companies in the country called upon President Roosevelt at the White House. The facts were given by Charles F. Williams, president of the Western and Southern Life Insurance Company, who said:

"They advised the President that between Jan. 1, 1933, and June 30 of this year the combined assets of all life insurance companies in this country increased more than $3,000,000,000. These assets now total approximately $23,915,000,000, against $20,900,000,000 at the beginning of 1933.

"In addition, there are now 2,000,000 more policies in force than were four years ago."

So the "Hamilton and Knox" scare story explodes in their own hands. Do the American people want such reckless men in charge of their Government in Washington?

CONFESSES TO LUST SLAYING

"I have spells of psychic power which compel me to separate life," Sears said. He was quoted in the shorthand-copied statement.

"I was frightened away before I had done all I started to," the confession said, according to Sears.

Police believed the slayer was frightened away by children who were playing "treasure hunt" along the beach in front of the cove and "lover's bench," where Miss Muir was slain.

The "death weapon" described in the confession was not the board which police found near the scene, it was said. The confession stated it had been "got rid of," Sears said.

Sears and detectives were checking every angle of the story before charges were to be filed.

Deputy Sheriffs Walter Blue and Detective Ed Stotler obtained the statement after six hours questioning at Patton.

"I went to La Jolla Monday afternoon," Sears said the statement read.

"I had been there before, hunting abalones. I hung around in the afternoon, then found a weapon and went after a woman."

Miss Muir, according to the statement, was found sitting on the bench overlooking the ocean. It said she was struck on the head, then dragged into a small cove. It then related the suspect threw the weapon into the sea and returned to the cove, but was frightened away by a group of children.

The children were a party who had been playing "treasure hunt" at the beach. They reported they did not observe a disturbance.

S. A. GIRL EXTENDS WIGHTMAN CUP ACE

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 22.—(UP)—John Van Ryn, veteran Philadelphia campaigner, eliminated one of France's two hopes in the Pacific Southwest tennis tournament today by besting Jacques Brugnon in two sets, 6-3, 6-2. The victory moved Van Ryn into the quarter-finals.

Marjorie Gladman Van Ryn, his wife, a Wightman Cup player, eliminated little Marjorie Lauderbach of Santa Ana, Cal., 11-9, 7-5, after unexpected opposition.

The day's first upset, saw Jack Tibball, former collegiate singles and doubles champion, eliminate Frankie Parker in straight sets, 6-3, 6-4.

Rooseveltian Economics

Here are some facts which should be considered by people who think President Roosevelt has done a good job and who are now inclined to vote for his re-election.

In three years the New Deal has spent $32,434,448,000. Those figures are worth reading a second time. MORE THAN THIRTY-TWO THOUSAND MILLIONS OF DOLLARS! One and one-fourth times as much in three years as it cost to carry on our Government from 1789 to 1913!

What has President Roosevelt done with all those billions? Vast sums of money have been spent in huge political squanderings and tremendous waste owing to ill-advised experiments and reckless boondoggling.

An annual expense of $500,000,000 has been added to the public payroll despite the pledge that governmental expenditures would be drastically reduced. But that is only one item of the New Deal spending spree. One California farmer was paid $155,575 to reduce his hog raising business. A British-owned company operating in Louisiana was paid $114,000 to limit its cotton crop. A Montana man, who had leased land from Indians for a few cents an acre, was paid $57,989 for agreeing not to raise anything on it.

Then there was sugar. President Roosevelt thought people were not paying as much for sugar as they should, so millions of dollars were paid to rich sugar people to cut down production and cause a scarcity which would bring a rise in the price to consumers. One sugar producer received $961,000.

Where did all the billions the New Deal Administration has spent so recklessly come from? Were they stored up in the national treasury, to be taken out and scattered around by President Roosevelt as he saw fit?

No, the money was collected from taxes on poor people or borrowed on the security of future taxes. The interest on those billions of borrowed money is paid out of the Government's revenues, most of which are collected from workers and small business people, who are compelled to pay hidden taxes on food, clothes and other necessities.

Thoughtful voters cannot fail to agree with Gov. Landon's declaration that "we should tackle and stop in its tracks the advancing tax burden."

economic and social conditions, and the extent of the needs for an expanded program."

The bill, roughly providing for an additional $10,000,000 expenditure, goes into effect July 1, 1937.

In appointing the committee for the study of additional vocational aid, Mr. Roosevelt named as chairman Dr. Floyd Reeves, professor of education, University of Chicago.

The president went ahead with his usual routine of White House business. During the day he planned to see Gov. John G. Winant of the Social Securities board, and others.

If he has time, he will work on the speeches to be delivered Sept. 29 at Syracuse before the Democratic state convention, and Oct. 1, at Pittsburgh.

The communications to Jones and Bankhead were sent at the same time that Mr. Roosevelt dispatched letters to 18 men and women representing labor, agriculture, home economics, industry, education and vocational rehabilitation, requesting a review by a disinterested group of the measure providing for federal aid for vocational education.

The president said "it is my thought that such a group should study the experience under the existing program of federal aid for federal vocational education, the relation of such training to general education and to prevailing

PASSION PLAY TO OPEN HERE ON WEDNESDAY

Members of the impressive cast in the world-famous Passion Play, to be staged in the Santa Ana Municipal Bowl tomorrow and Thursday nights, arrived in town today as preparations for staging the spectacular, dramatic presentation were completed.

Advance sale of tickets already has assured success of the event, according to William Garvin, general chairman of the Elks committee in charge of the affair. Members of the local Elks lodge today expressed appreciation to residents of Orange county who have purchased tickets or who are planning to attend, pointing out that the Elks will use every dime of the money taken in to fill Christmas baskets for the needy at Christmas time.

"Residents of Santa Ana who see either of the two Passion Play performances will benefit doubly," Garvin said today. "In the first place, they will see a remarkable, awe-inspiring play, one which hundreds have journeyed to Europe to see. In the second place, they will have the satisfaction of knowing that they have done a good, Christian act in helping the Elks with their Christmas Basket fund, used to make poor families happy at Christmas."

According to Garvin, the Passion Play is one of the grandest, dramatic and beautiful spectacles ever to reach this city.

FLOYD WRIGHT WILL TEACH AT NIGHT SCHOOL

Considerable interest was aroused today in the announcement by Dale Deckert, local representative of the National Aeronautical association, that a ground school course in flying will be presented at the Lathrop Evening High school as part of this year's adult education program.

The course will open on Thursday night, October 1, Deckert announced, and will continue for 16 weeks. Floyd Wright, government licensed instructor, will teach the class, the first of its kind ever staged in Santa Ana.

Wright will teach the cadet system, the same course used by the Army in instruction in ground school aviation. The course offered here will include theory of flight, air commerce rules and regulations, airplane construction and rigging, meteorology and navigation.

All of the work in the course will be theoretical, and is intended as much for those persons who are not interested in flying as for those that are interested in flying, Deckert said.

It will not be necessary to purchase any books and the entire course will be free to all persons interested. Class time will be from 7 to 9 p. m. each Thursday, starting October 1. Reservations can be made by calling the Lathrop school or by calling Deckert at 3260, it was announced.

COUNTY GRANGE IN RESOLUTION TO STATE MEET

Representatives of the Orange County Pomona Grange today were preparing to present resolutions to the state Grange convention at Eureka, the week of October 20, following a meeting at the Midway City civic clubhouse, when the chain store tax, citrus marketing and mortgage moratorium legislation were discussed at length.

The pomona unanimously adopted a resolution, as follows: "Resolved, that the Orange county pomona activity sponsor and support the Future Farmers and 4-H Club work and cooperate with the Agricultural Extension service in enlarging this work in an endeavor to retain our young people on the farm."

The Wintersburg meeting centered about a pot luck dinner at 6:30, with the Wintersburg Grange acting as host for the evening.

Immediately following dinner, a musical program was presented, featuring the young people's orchestra, under direction of Julian Mathews. The program included a march, "N. C. 4" (Bigelow); "Spring, Beautiful Spring" (Lincke); Glee Club (Wellesley); "Into the Dawn" (Lee); accordion solo, Billy Patterson; dance team, "Top Hat"; Bettygene Corry and Phyllis White; reading, Mrs. Mae Geeting.

The October meeting of the pomona will be cancelled because of the State Grange convention. The pomona will convene at the Anaheim Concordia club at 2:30 p. m. Monday, November 2, for a

JAYSEE BUDGET ANNOUNCED BY STUDENT CHIEF

Nell McDaniels, treasurer of the Associated Students organization of the Santa Ana Junior college, today announced the adoption of the 1936-37 school budget with the statement that if adhered to it will permit the ending of the year with a balance of some $1400.

The budget includes appropriations for the various organizations of the school, for sports, for school activities, for department projects, and various other items. McDaniels qualified his statement with the assertion that the biggest source of revenue for the students is from the sale of Associated Students tickets and football receipts.

Up to yesterday there had been 257 student tickets sold, a record over last year at this time, according to Mrs. Helen Deaton, bookkeeper. This year's budget calls for the sale of approximately 400 tickets. The total sales last year amounted to approximately 500 tickets. This year students may purchase tickets for $7, buying with them admission to sport matches, social affairs, and many other privileges.

Former plans for the sale of student tickets to the public for use as football passes have been discontinued, stated McDaniels. About 10 passes have been issued by the student executive board.

EL SERAPE MAKES CAMPUS APPEARANCE

Beginning its career last semester as the only humor publication ever attempted in Santa Ana Junior college and continuing throughout the year with amusement for the college student, this term's first edition of El Serape made its appearance on the campus yesterday.

The little magazine was conceived, written, edited and moulded into shape by John Rabe, who is also at the helm this year. C.; Walt Bandick, last semester's editor of El Don, who is feature editor; Ed Velarde, sports editor; Raymond Foster, circulation manager; and Douglas McMann, business manager.

B. & P. W. CLUBS HEARS ADDRESS BY SRA LEADER

Resumption of desk, school-room and office duties by various Business and Professional Women after the summer vacation season, seemed indicated by increased attendance last night at the semi-monthly dinner program which members of their organization shared in the Doris Kathryn.

With this large attendance were but two guests. Miss Eugenia Gilbert and Miss Esther Fellows, together with the guest speaker, Mrs. Josephine Hearle, county adjustment supervisor for women in the SRA. Miss Lena Thomas, club president, gave only a brief interval to business matters, but called attention to invitation from Orange Business and Professional Women's club to the dinner meeting and political discussion next Monday night.

Miss Harriet Whidden, chairman of September program committee, introduced Mrs. Hearle, who outlined duties and responsibilities of her office in dealing with the problem of women's unemployment. One of the principal duties of the project at present, is to clarify the situation and responsibilities of the various unemployment agencies, she explained.

With more than 700 women on the various work projects at present, she outlined some of these activities, in which sewing takes the lead, with nursery schools, recreational, music and vocational study some of those represented. She called special attention to the federal re-employment agency in the post office building, through which all women in need of employment, may be aided. There is an average return of between 40 and 60 women a month to private employment fields from the SRA project she declared.

COUNCIL NOTES

Action for adoption of necessary resolutions to establish through-streets, secondary streets and parking zones in Santa Ana, in accordance with agreement between the city and the state division of highways, was deferred by city council last night until the next regular meeting, October 5, to allow the Solons time for further study.

S. D. Byrd, skating ring proprietor, was named special city police officer to serve without pay, when city council met last night. Cornish J. Roehm, former constable here, also was named a special officer. Roehm will assist in school crossing patrol work.

QUEEN CONTEST IS PLANNED BY BUSINESS MEN

Orange County Home Owned Business association's forthcoming "Fun Festival and Style Show" is assuming large proportions. Starting Tuesday, a "Queen" Contest will get under way. The committee in charge are seeking 25 attractive Santa Ana and Orange county girls to enter the contest. Not only will there be cash awards for every girl entered—but the winner will receive a beautiful diamond ring, which will be on display at the Wm. C. Lorenz Jewelry Store. Every girl entered in the contest will appear at the Ebell Theater preceding the Style Show and the mammoth Fanchon & Marco Vaudeville Review. The winner will be crowned "Queen" immediately following the Style Show, and all the girls will form a court of honor. Any one of the contestants that might have a particular talent, will be given an opportunity to have an audition by Fanchon & Marco as the organization is always looking for new talent for their many road shows, studio work and radio. Further information can be secured at 208 Walter L. Moore Bldg.

"WAR MAKERS" DISCUSSED BY ALDEN ALLEY

The Orange County Federal Forum held its first meeting in Santa Ana last night at the Willard auditorium. Lt. Alden G. Alley, the Forum leader was introduced by City School Superintendent Frank A. Henderson, administrator of the county-wide project. Every seat in the auditorium was filled and dozens were turned away.

Lt. Alley, who came directly to Orange county upon his return to the United States from a European tour, discussed the subject "Who Are the War Makers?" While he named various "candidates for this devil—a war maker" he pointed out that in every case the so-called war maker was powerless except as he was supported by "you and me."

First he named "the sensational newspaper which spreads false news and breeds racial hatred." This newspaper is dangerous only when read by the public. Its wide circulation is basic evidence of what great masses of people want. Next he named "wicked statesmen" who, he claimed, were often desirous to build for peace but found their hands tied by the passion and ignorance of the dear public.

The last "candidate for devil" named was the munition makers. Lt. Alley stated that they were the only professional group that supported as a unit every measure to extend the army and navy. They are critical of every effort to "foment peace." But he also pointed out that they were few in number, probably less than fifty. Their ballot power is limited but they spend a great deal in lobbying. Since every congressman has his ear to the ground the public can defeat the lobbyist if we are on the job.

He closed with the statement that the most important fact in the world is "we haven't grown up in our ability to face facts. Only by an intelligent public opinion can we hope for peace."

Lt. Alley emphasized every point with clever illustration and his sense of humor kept the audience alert. The last half hour was devoted to answering questions from the floor. In his able way more stress was laid upon the responsibility of the public as he discussed "Do the German people want war?" "Can we get honest news?" "Do the advertisers control the press?" "Does a large standing army insure peace?" Lt. Alley will speak again next Monday evening on "Can America Live Alone?"

TOLEDO, (UP)—Activity in a little red schoolhouse attracted the attention of federal agents. Not only was it summer vacation but the school had been closed for several years. Investigation disclosed a 200-gallon still and four "moonshiners," who ended the "summer school" and began a different kind of "term."

OF RICH, RIPE-BODIED TOBACCO — "IT'S TOASTED"

SKIPPY PEANUT BUTTER NEVER GETS RANCID

Peanut butter ranks high in popularity among every day foods. It is especially valuable to growing children who need a diet rich in protein. By weight, peanut butter contains twice as much protein as pork or eggs, three times as much as bread, and nearly 10 times as much as whole milk or dairy butter.

When fresh, peanut butter is good food at a low cost, but as you know peanut butter has two disadvantages—oil separation and rancidity. The first portion of peanut butter used is too oily and the bottom of the package is too dry, and worst of all this oil is very delicate and extremely susceptible to rancidity, and this rancid oil is injurious to the digestion.

Years of research have developed a peanut butter that overcomes these two great disadvantages. Skippy peanut butter, featured at the Cooking School this week, is guaranteed against oil separation and rancidity. Skippy is always fresh and sweet with the same creamy consistency on the bottom of the package as at the top. It is delicious and healthy.

You would not serve your family rancid butter; you should not serve rancid peanut butter. Due to its consistency, Skippy can be substituted in many recipes for one-half of the shortening, thus producing many new and delightful dishes. Try using Skippy in a pastry gun for decorating cakes, cookies and hors d'oeuvres.

Skippy can be chilled to harden and warmed to soften, just as fresh creamery butter.

It is packed in clean convenient tins, and in economy paper cartons. More than 30,000 chimney swifts have been banded, but not one has ever been recaptured outside the United States. It is believed that they spend their winters in forests near the Amazon river, but the actual wintering ground is unknown.

MODEL RED AND WHITE STORE

In the short span of a few years Red and White stores have spread all over Southern California. Conforming to the high standards of quality merchandise and personal, interested service, the neighborhood stores have found high favor with thrifty shoppers. The illustration below shows the interior of a model Red and White store.

USE VEGEERONI FOR ECONOMY AND VARIETY

"Every day," says Miss Jane Kruse, who is here this week conducting The Register cooking school, "the busy housewife is confronted with the problem of thinking of something new for mealtime, something that the family will like yet will be good for them, and something that is easy to prepare and moderate in cost."

This "something," says Miss Kruse, can be found in Vegeroni, an appetizing, satisfying, one-dish meal, rich in energy, proteins, minerals and vitamins. It is made from the finest quality macaroni, combined with ten wholesome, vine-ripened vegetables, carefully selected and blended for flavor and nutrition. It contains all the requirements for an ideal one-dish meal, supplying everything needed in a well-balanced diet, and in addition is perfectly delicious in flavor, simple to prepare, and inexpensive in price.

"For those who guard their waistlines," went on Miss Kruse, "and avoid plain pastes, Vegeroni has an especial appeal, since it is among the nonfattening foods. Too, the minerals in the vegetables are sufficient to balance the starch and protein in the macaroni, so Vegeroni has an alkaline reaction instead of an acid one, thus helping to maintain the alkaline balance necessary to good health."

The delicate colors of Vegeroni—cream, salmon, and pastel green—are derived entirely from the vegetables since no artificial color is added, and will appeal to the member of the family with the "finicky" appetite, while its high energy value will carry the football-playing son through the most strenuous day.

Miss Kruse is especially enthusiastic about the many fine qualities of Vegeroni, and feels that once a housewife has tried it, she will find that it can be used in innumerable appetizing and healthful dishes to make a well-balanced and interesting menu every day in the year.

Supper Planned By Church Group

FULLERTON, Sept. 22.—Vacation experiences will be recounted at the Presbyterian church at 6:30 p. m. Tuesday in the church social hall. A short business session will be conducted to determine when the church membership desires to open the evening services. For the dinner Tuesday, those whose surnames begin with A and to J are to bring a hot dish; from K to P, salad; from S to Z dessert.

SHORE DINNER IS ARISTOCRAT OF SEA FOODS

It is not often that the housewife has available a single food product capable of being served in such a wide variety of ways that may form a welcome part of the family menu at very frequent intervals. Such is the case, however, with "Shore Dinner," the new "aristocrat of seafoods," but recently presented to the public of this section.

Pre-cooked under completely sanitary conditions, "Shore Dinner" may be served either hot or cold. It may be baked, broiled, toasted, creamed, prepared on casseroles, made into an excellent chowder by simply adding milk, and cannot be surpassed as a component of salads, sandwiches, appetizers, and between-meal "snacks". In fact, the range of "Shore Dinner" varied recipes is only limited by the ingenuity of the housewife or cook.

"Shore Dinner" is a unique product in its field. It is made of the center cuts of fresh ocean fish, fine quality rice, and a finely ground blend of vegetable seasonings—all combined in a single can. Its formula was developed by food experts, after long study, and the result is a scientifically balanced food, healthful, rich in iodized proteins, and especially good for growing children—and withal, pleasingly delicious and tasty. Another pleasing factor is the surprisingly low price for a quality product.

There are many old Buddhist monks in Tibet who have kept themselves sealed up in little huts since early youth. Many of them have been enclosed more than 40 years in the huts which contain only openings for food.

QUICK FUDGE POPULAR FOR DINNER SWEET

With quickly prepared meals so popular now, many women are turning to Quick Fudge for the sweet that completes the success of luncheon or dinner. This is a packaged powder that, mixed with a little water and butter, and cooked for three or four minutes, makes the creamiest fudge one can imagine. There is no danger of "graininess," and the mixture requires no beating at all.

Plain, or with chopped almonds or walnuts added, Quick Fudge is delicious cut in squares and served as candy, or used as icing for almost any kind of a cake.

The fudge is made up at the factory with professional skill and proved to be perfect before it is made into a powder. That is why Quick Fudge can never "fall" as very often home-made fudge will, as every housewife has learned. So, because of the process, there's no guesswork or speculation over the result when Quick Fudge is used.

Directions for preparing it are simple and brief and printed on every Quick Fudge package. They are to put three and one-half tablespoons of water and one and one-half tablespoons of butter in a double boiler, let the butter melt, and pour in the contents of the package. Three minutes or so of slow stirring completes the job, and the rich fudge is ready for a cool, buttered plate.

Liquid coffee may be used in place of water, or cocoa may be added to suit the individual taste, but most people find Quick Fudge very satisfying just as it is. It comes in a chocolate and buff and white package and is for sale at most grocery stores.

STORES HELP SELL PEACH SURPLUS

With an abundant peach crop to sell, it was recently suggested that independent grocers could supply an outlet for California peach growers in disposing of their surplus. Acting at once, Red and White Food Stores appealed directly to the housewives, advertising in the columns of California newspapers in which were featured well known quality brands of canned peaches at special prices.

R. A. McPhee, advertising manager for Red and White stores of Southern California, reports that every member cooperated fully with the campaign and the results were highly satisfactory. The sale of peaches was multiplied throughout the state, many stores in the territory showing four times the normal distribution of this item.

SMART WAY TO SLENDERIZE IS POMPEIAN WAY

The smart way—the French way—to slenderize is the Pompeian way. "Keep slender by eating salads instead of heavy foods," says the dieticians — "but remember there is a world of difference between rich, creamy dressings and slenderizing French-type salad dressings made the Pompeian Olive Oil way. Pompeian French-type salad dressings are thin and fluid and can be made easily and quickly at the table.

Twelve of these much desired "thin" dressings are given in the card file of 122 recipes now being offered at the principal grocery stores with a 4-oz. bud vase filled with Pompeian Pure Virgin Olive Oil.

There is no substitute for the full, fruity flavor of wholesome, health-giving Pompeian olive oil. The piquant, delicate bouquet of this famous first-pressed virgin imported oil provides your salad dressings with the distinctive zest and flavor that enlivens the salad and makes slenderizing the Pompeian way a delightful pleasure.

NORGE REFRIGERATOR PAYS FOR ITSELF IN FOOD SAVED, SAYS HORTON, LOCAL DEALER

The perfection of the electric refrigerator today now makes it possible for a housewife to save more with an electric refrigerator than the refrigerator actually costs, said George Horton, manager of the electrical department of the J. C. Horton Furniture company, Sixth and Main streets, local dealer for the famous Norge refrigerator, today.

"This may sound incredible to those who do not know from experience what real savings the best in modern refrigeration will effect," he said. "But we fortunately have the certified results of the newest nation-wide survey made by the Norge corporation among some 50,000 housewives which proves this to be the truth.

"In the first place, 89 per cent of all Norge owners questioned said that, out of their personal experience in their own homes, their electric refrigerator paid for itself. They reported food savings on an average of $6.74 per month, with many stating that these savings went as high as $11 per month. They said that, because of their ability to store larger quantities of food safely, they saved an average of 11.4 trips to the grocery store each month.

"With Rollator refrigeration the housewife is able to save three ways. First, through low operating cost. Second, through elimination of food spoilage, permitting the keeping of leftovers. Third, ample safe storage capacity to permit her to take full advantage of sale-day bargains and quantity buying," stated Mr. Horton.

"Effective preservation of foods, especially the more perishable kinds, such as vegetables and dairy products, keeps them in the most appetizing form. The result is that they have more appetite appeal to the family, waste is eliminated, and additional savings made.

"Look over the bargain food prices in Thursday and Friday issues of the papers, and compare them with the regular, early in the week prices," suggested Mr. Horton. You will be surprised at how much difference there is, especially in perishables such as fresh meat and vegetables. List what your family would consume in one week of good living. Multiply these quantities by the savings that can be gained by taking advantage of bargain prices advertised in today's paper. You will be astonished at the real saving that can be made. This is an ideal way to keep food costs at a minimum.

"It is savings such as these that have proved to thousands of Norge owners that Rollator refrigeration really pays for itself," said Mr. Horton.

GIVE RULE FOR BAKING POWDER USE IN CAKES

Knowing that baking powder leavens cake it is natural to assure that adding an extra half teaspoon to the amount specified in a recipe will give a cake greater lightness. However, that is not true, and the best plan is to use the amount recommended on the baking powder can.

Because of the increased efficiency of K C and some other baking powders in use today, representing about 80 per cent of the baking powder consumed, they should be used properly to insure successful bakings. The following rules will be helpful in bringing about desired results:

First, always use the amount specified on the baking powder can. This proportion has been worked out as best for that particular type. With K C, one level teaspoon to a cup of sifted flour is sufficient for most recipes.

Second, measure carefully—remember that an excess amount of any baking powder does not produce best results. A level teaspoonful means that it is leveled off with a knife.

K C Baking Powder, the brand used in the cooking school, is one of the most economical and efficient products for use in the kitchen. Properly used it will produce the finest of baked goods, and can be depended upon always to give pleasing results.

Additional helpful information, and a number of practical, tested recipes, can be obtained by sending for the K C Cook's Book. A copy will be mailed, postage paid, in answer to all requests sent together with the slip taken from a can of K C Baking Powder, to the Jacques Manufacturing company, Chicago.

TESTS PROVE ACE-HI FLOUR IS DEPENDABLE

There's such a feeling of dependability about Ace-Hi All-Purpose Flour in every home kitchen familiar with its goodness. No other fine family flour in America is more carefully and sincerely prepared, nor made from a more scientific selection of hard winter wheats—produced from the best growing areas in the United States.

Behind this Southern California product is more than 40 years of practical experience in blending and milling. To further guarantee quality, the Ace-Hi laboratory makes constant rigid chemical analysis to determine the strength and quality of the protein. Nothing is left to chance in Ace-Hi operations. Any baking test will prove that fact.

No matter what the home-baker is preparing, Ace-Hi measures up to the requirements. It is perfect for bread, biscuits, pastry. The longer you use Ace-Hi the greater becomes your confidence. Dependability in the matter of quality is equalled by uniformity. The bag purchased six months from now must be the same as bought today. To bring about the satisfying results for which it has won fame throughout the Southland, Ace-Hi goes through many exacting processes before it is packed in the protected cloth bags. As a final touch, the flour goes to the Ace-Hi warehouses for its natural aging period of thirty days or so before it is delivered to your grocery.

LAI OFF FROM WORK BY CONSTIPATION

"For four years I suffered from constipation. I had gotten so weak I had to lay off from work. My doctor told me to use Kellogg's ALL-BRAN. Since then, my grocery list has never been complete without it."—Mr. A. W. Murphy, 1010 16th St., Tuscaloosa, Alabama.

This delicious cereal will give you the same, sure relief. Laboratory tests prove it's safe. Within the body, its "bulk" absorbs moisture, forms a soft mass, gently cleanses the intestines. ALL-BRAN also furnishes vitamin B which tones the intestines, and iron for the blood.

Just eat two tablespoons daily. Serve as a cereal or cook into appetizing recipes. Isn't this natural food better than pills and drugs?

When you're at the grocery store today, get a package of Kellogg's ALL-BRAN. Try it a week, and see if you don't feel worlds better. Made and guaranteed by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

RED AND WHITE STORES TAKE LEAD OVER COUNTY, STATES OFFICIAL OF GROUP STORES

By R. A. McPHEE

Wherever you travel in Orange county, bright attractive Red & White Food Stores greet you with a warm welcome. Entering them, one is immediately impressed with the cleanliness, orderliness, and businesslike atmosphere of these modern food shops.

"This transformation from the old type grocery store to the 1936 streamlines of the modern food market has been brought about through membership of these stores in the Red & White plan of Voluntary Group Stores. This movement sponsored by the Smart & Final Co., Ltd., Wholesale Grocers of Southern California, started something like four years ago and the progress of these stores under the leadership of this outstanding wholesale grocery concern has been rapid and healthy, until today this group, taken as a whole, is the outstanding distributor of foods in a retail way in Orange County.

If one were to step into their car and set out to make a survey of these stores they would probably start at the historic old town of San Juan Capistrano and there they would find the Red & White Stores represented in the business of John M. Ray whose general merchandise store is one of the fine establishments of that thriving community and brings all of the advantages of a city store right to the doors of his patrons. Then there's San Clemente where A. E. Adair flies the Red & White banner and operates as fine a food market as can be found on the Pacific coast.

At Newport Beach Thompson's Red & White Store serves its patrons well, and over on Balboa Island Brown's Island Grocery has made Red & White the most popular name for food items on the island. At Costa Mesa is located the beautiful new double front Red & White store owned by Mr. and Mrs. Albert Dudek. Recently opened with a Grand Opening Sale, this modern market is one of the finest in Costa Mesa and the owners, Mr. and Mrs. Dudek, enjoy an enviable reputation among the people of that community. At Huntington Beach are several stores under the Red & White banner. There's the down town store of Howard and Smith complete in every detail and carrying a large stock of all kinds of foods, likewise the parent store known as Howard & Smith's No. 1 Store under the management of Roy Smith while his partner, Marcus Howard, operates the down town store.

Then there's William Adair and C. L. Elliott and Son, both of whom have been members of the Red & White stores for a long time and have taken advantage of their membership to operate up-to-date stores. At Bolsa Jack Wallingford owns the fine looking Red & White store situated on the main street of the town. Pushing down on the gas pedal we speed over to Garden Grove and there we find the most impressive looking establishments in the town has a Red & White sign over the door and the proud owner of this fine store is none other than E. R. Schneider, a well known business man and civic leader of this thriving community. Getting out of the store at Anaheim when everybody likes to go and enjoy their municipal park, one of the finest in Southern California, and there we find three Red & White Stores and three looking ones too, there's O. T. Johnsons located at 408 N. Los Angeles St., W. J. Leake at 1108 Lincoln Ave. and Koehler's Golden Rule Red & White store located at 826 W. Center street.

Over To Fullerton
It's noon time, so we will just run on over to Fullerton, have lunch and stop for a few minutes at 447 West Whiting where the Dalbey and Buchanan Red & White store is located. After a few minutes chat we then drive over to J. A. Leverich's Red & White Store located at 446 East Wilshire. Mr. Leverich has been in business in Fullerton for many years, and is a well known citizen of the community. After a cheery greeting from these two successful Red & White operators and a short chat we're on our way to Buena Park and there in this growing little city we find the Red & White Store of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Tobey located right on Grand Avenue and boasting one of the really fine food stocks of that community. On our way back to Santa Ana we stop in at Atwood and there J. E. Gatewood is mayor of the town, or at least he's the leading business man and seems to have a lot to say about how the town is run, and we're convinced he would make a good city official because of the splendid Red & White store he operates.

Orange Stores
Our trip would certainly not be complete if we passed up our neighboring city of Orange, so we'll just run over there and say hello to Dewey & Hessel's Red & White Store located at 218 E. Chapman avenue. A grand looking store it is, and one of the pioneer business establishments of Orange. Over at 331 S. Glassell street we are greeted by Harry N. Siemsen who was one of the charter members of Red & White and whose reputation as a good merchant is not to be denied. Traveling south we come to Irvine where Boyd Munger shakes our hand and bids us welcome and just to show off his merchandising ability calls our attention to the fine display of Red & White foods he has been building. Boyd was a year or two late joining the Red & White group but he is rapidly making up for time lost and now we are on our way back home to Santa Ana and we haven't even had time to call at the Hattie L. Talbert store located at Talbert, Calif., and operated by one of the west's finest women.

Hattie L. Talbert is a real business woman and deserves the success which has come to her, but we can't stop to tell you too much about this fine store because we've overlooked J. D. Wakeman's Red & White store at Brea, where a fine looking Red & White delivery truck makes folks wish they could have it stop at their homes more often, as it gives one a proud feeling to have a fine looking delivery car calling at their home with a supply of those finer Red & White foods. Over at La Habra the J. E. Tracy Red & White Store enjoys the exclusive sale of this popular line and Mr. Tracy is one of the active members of the local group of merchants.

Well, here we are back in the old home town and ready to conclude our trip with an inspection of the local stores. The best are always saved for the last and Santa Ana is just about as proud of her fine group of business men enlisted under the Red & White banner as these men are of their organization. There's V. L. Motry, Exalted Ruler of the Elks and active in the civic and business affairs of the city, together with his good wife, who operate a Red & White store at 811 W. Highland and enjoy a fine volume of business that would do credit to a far more pretentious establishment, then dropping down town, right on the main street at 431 West 4th we find those good folks, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Baker, both actively engaged in operating their fine food store, recently improved with new fixtures and always kept spic and span in appearance to attract the best trade of the city.

Santa Ana Store
Just a little further out on West Fourth is the Geo. Krock Red & White store. George has been in this location for several years and enjoys the confidence and good will of his many customers who have steadily increased as time has passed, but let's run on out to see Claude Smith, big genial Claude whose Red & White store is a landmark at 1431 W. Fourth and whose owner is known all over Santa Ana for his hearty laugh as well as for the fine foods he dispenses. Perhaps we should head in another direction now, but before doing so let's see how Jimmy Ryan is getting along over on the corner of Fifth and Artesia. Jim is also one of the charter members of the Red & White group in Santa Ana. He's a tireless worker and operates a complete food store, well stocked and modern in every way. C. A. Reimour is a new resident at 1071 West First Street, having been formerly located at 310 East First street where he operated a Red & White food store, but my goodness you ought to see the transformation that has taken place in this new location. Honestly folks, you wouldn't know the place, and now front, fresh paint, a new sign in everything, sure does look prosperous and Clyde tells us the looks don't deceive you and business is good.

Just around the corner and down to 810 West Myrtle, and who do we find? None other than our old friend H. A. Smith who, together with his son-in-law, Corwin Frazee, serves Red & White foods to the folks in that fine section of the city. Fine section did you say? Yes sir, we did and meant it too, because you see, your correspondent lives down in that neck of the woods. But, here we are getting entirely off the subject. Getting back to Smith's Red & White store and we're impressed with the well arranged stock, fine displays and genuine spirit of hospitality that greets every customer.

All ready to take off for another section we find a flat tire greets us on our return to the old bus, so we're delayed for a few minutes while tires are changed and a good joshing is suffered at hands of H. A. Smith, then we're on our road, traveling down South Main street the first time we know sign to attract our attention is located at Main and Fairview. There Charley Adams holds forth and offers an outstanding example of how the Red & White plan fits into nearly every method of store business, because Charley operates one of those Modern Drive-In stores. Everybody who knows it, shined so it sparkles well arranged stock and displays greet you on every turn. Charley is a Santa Ana boy and right proud we are of his merchandising ability, and the success he has made. His experience came from years as a traveling salesman, the best man from point of sales of his group (as the writer happens to know) and now that Charley is in business for himself he is proving the benefit of that training, by operating one of the best Red & White food stores in Santa Ana. After leaving Charley's store we sail around the corner to Ed Vieth's Red & White store located at 421 E. McFadden.

Store
Another one of those well operated neighborhood stores catering to the needs of his immediate community and holding the respect and high regard of his loyal customers. Ed Vieth has been active in serving on the many committees which the Red & White membership makes available for his valuable service and is a successful business man, made more so by his membership in this group. Coming out of Ed's store we happen to feel in our right hand coat pocket and there reposed a letter that the Missus had told us to mail several days ago, so rather than be caught red handed upon our return home we will just run over to the post office and drop it in the mailbox.

On our way we stop in to see our old friends, Percy Gettle and wife. Percy used to be located way out on North Main street by the bridge and his many friends were mighty glad when Percy decided to move his Red & White store down town and be one of us. Located at 510 Bush street in the arcade building Percy has everything that it takes to make an attractive food store. Plenty of stock, well arranged floor space and modern fixtures, when combined with the gracious courtesy that greets one from both Mr. and Mrs. Gettle and their warm personal interest in your welfare makes one feel right at home and only wish that their dollars were more plentiful to spend with such fine merchants. Our letter mailed, we want to run on out and see Howard Hughett and his wife at 2204 North Main street, where these good folks have made a really outstanding success of their fine store, and their ever increasing business is the best evidence of that success. Starting in several years ago Howard Hughett was limited as to capital and his opening stock was not very large, but by dint of hard work and the assistance and advice of a good wife Howard has built a business that is the pride of his friends. We doubt if there is a finer stock of food in a location of this size in Santa Ana and the care and attention given to it by both Mr. and Mrs. Hughett is making Red & White a popular line of foods on North Main street.

Andrews Business
Not over a dozen blocks away at 608 East Washington, is the store of T. W. Andrews, so well known over there for a few minutes. Well, for goodness sake, I couldn't believe my eyes at the change which has taken place in this store in the last month or two. "Tom Andrews, it looks as if you had been spending some real hard money to have made such a fine looking store in so short a time," one of our group acknowledges his guilt and starts in showing us around the place. A new Santa Ana-built walk-in meat box, display cases and shelving, new arrangements, new paint. Say folks, it surely is a fine looking store, but before we could get away Tom was telling us the sad news. Sad to Tom of course, but it's all wind that blows no good to anyone and so we're sure that Tom will get over it when Bob and Doug, his two brothers, get their new Red & White store opened up and going at 1206 East Fourth street. Doug and Bob tell Tom that they are going to have as fine a store as he has and that perhaps what is putting those few gray hairs in Tom's head. Well, Doug and Bob, we warn you, it isn't going to be easy and we wish you all three the very best of luck. We know you'll win with the help of Red & White. We almost overlooked on our survey of the Santa Ana stores Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Vaughan located at 852 North Garvey. They recently purchased this store from J. C. Bach and remodeled it into a modern Red & White store. This store is now a real asset to the community in which it operates.

And so, we've covered all those fine Red & White food stores in our home town. Every single one of them owned and operated by the man behind the counter and a fine set of business men as one can find anywhere. Tooting our own horn, you say, well perhaps so, but listen, friends, we like to talk about home folks. There just isn't any place in the world that one starts talking about business concerns that are home owned and home operated that's about the finest recommendation we know of for any business.

Following is a list of the stores: Red & White Stores

BEN-HUR EXTRACTS ARE MOST POPULAR

Ben-Hur extracts—which out-sell all others combined in the Southwest—for many years have been featured in cake-baking contests because of their outstandingly high and unvarying quality. Ben-Hur vanilla is far stronger than government requirement—in fact, it is as strong as science can make it. Such vanilla gives guaranteed results—the flavor does not bake out or cook out.

Ben-Hur lemon extract is three times stronger than government requirement. All Ben-Hur extracts are prepared with the objective of making the finest quality that science and money can produce.

EUROPE FAVORS PIQUANT TABASCO

A difference in opinion as to the subtle flavoring of foods has been known to precipitate harsh words, and provoke that "incompatibility of temperament" so disastrous to domestic tranquility.

There is, however, an almost universal and unanimous decision in favor of McIlhenny's Tabasco, according to the users of this piquant sauce, who claim it deserves the long-term devotion its many friends have accorded it.

Miss Jane Kruse, at the Register cooking school, has used this delightful flavoring in many new and delicious recipes, to the great interest of her audience, many of whom are already old friends, while others were glad indeed to become acquainted with this snappy sauce.

EXPANSIONS IN R. & W. STORES SHOW PROGRESS

BY R. A. MPHEE

If the purchasing of modern new fixtures and the remodeling, repainting and rearranging of stores is any evidence of business improvement, then the Red & White stores of Orange county are showing a decided increase in their business volume. The best part of a program of this kind is that it is, in almost every instance, the forerunner of another healthy increase in sales. It is said by a merchandising authority that many department stores in the larger cities have found it decidedly profitable to be continually in the process of changing and remodeling their various departments. Statistics show that the department in which the remodeling is in progress records an immediate and substantial increase in business.

The buying public is just naturally attracted to a place that shows activity and we are going to give the Orange county Red & White members credit for being smart enough to capitalize upon such a program, continuing their position as the leading Red & White stores of the Southern California area.

$18,200 Spent Remodeling

In order that members may have some idea of the amount of this kind of good work which is going on in Orange county, B. R. Manker, branch manager of the Smart & Final Co., Ltd., compiled a list of the stores, together with their locations, the type of improvement, and approximate amount of money being spent thereon.

J. A. Leverich, Fullerton. New building and fixtures. $3000.

Local Dealers Profit

Every dollar has been spent with local dealers and workmen.

Even in the purchase of new fixtures, such as meat cases and equipment, Red & White merchants not only purchased the products of local factories but went to considerable trouble and expense to advertise this fact to the consuming public. They let it be known that they are local independent merchants spending their money in the communities in which they were located, living in and not on them. Local business people are quick to recognize the advantages of patronizing home owned institutions, and the Red &

TELLS HOW TO KEEP SLIM

Every Friday afternoon, lovely Irene Rich, famous star of the movies and stage, tells millions of her listeners over a coast-to-coast hook up, of the Welch Way to slenderness. Here is Miss Rich broadcasting one of her thrilling radio dramas.

HOW TO KEEP SLENDER TOLD BY WELCH FIRM

Excess fat comes from eating and drinking foods too rich in fat-producing elements. But in order to reduce healthfully and at the same time maintain your energy, it is not enough to substitute low-calorie foods. Scientists have now discovered that you must also supply the body with a certain amount of easily-burnable sugar—so that the body can burn up its fat.

That's why Welch's grape juice, always certified-pure and pasteurized, belongs on every reducing diet. It satisfies that craving for sweets and rich, fattening foods... yet actually helps you lose weight! Listen to the sensible suggestions about reducing with Welch's at the cooking school this week.

Irene Rich, lovely lady of the screen, tells the world—"Don't be fat. Eat sensibly—drink Welch's Grape Juice." At 43 Miss Rich weighs the same as she did at 16.

In the Welch process all the sugar in the juice is pre-digested, hence quickly and easily burned; it actually helps to burn up fat! As you follow the Welch Way, week after week, it not only gives you slender lines, it restores a lovely natural color to your cheeks. You feel "made-over"—full of new vitality. Along with your daily reducing diet, drink a glass with or between meals, and before retiring.

Send your name and address to the Welch Juice Co., Westfield, N. Y., for free scientific health booklet: "Keeping Your Weight Down," "Red Blooded Children and Athletes." Also a new, simple diet list of many good things to eat, with weight and height chart, and a letter from Irene Rich, telling you how at 43 she keeps her weight the same as at 14.

MOURN, MOURN FOR OLD NOTRE DAME IS LAYDEN'S SONG

SOUTH BEND, Ind., Sept. 22.—Crying towels are sopping wet in the dressing rooms under the Notre Dame football plant hard by the Golden Dome.

"It isn't the material, it's the experience," says Elmer Layden and his assistants.

There is some justification for the gloom that spreads over the colorful campus here, for the Irish did lose some brilliant stars. But with 102 husky stalwarts running around loose on the striped sod, full of typical Notre Dame spirit, even the most inexperienced observer gets the idea that at least there'll be 11 green-clad warriors present for the Saturday afternoon affair.

Viewing the situation from Layden's point of view, no one can laugh off the loss of 19 lettermen, especially when they are of the caliber of Miller and Peters, ends; Pfefferle, Michota, and Stilley; tackles; Solari and Pojman, centers; Fromhart and Moriarty, quarterbacks; Shakespeare, Pinner, Layden and Mazzotti, halves, and Fred Carideo and Elser, fullbacks.

WANTED: FIELD GENERAL

Notre Dame needs a field general. It has had some remarkable signal-calls, Gus Dorais, Harry Stuhldreher, and Frank Carideo among them. Last year's array was ably piloted by Fromhart, in particular, and Gaul and Moriarty. It went through a typical South Bend schedule with only one defeat and one tie.

Not one of the returning 16 lettermen is a quarterback. Only three of the 59 reserves of 1936 have had any experience in marking signals, and little is known of the capabilities of Ernie Arboitt, Bill Bruno, or Bernie Meglin.

So desperate is the lean Layden that he has been trying out Joe Ruetz, former guard, at quarter, and that veteran may out Andy Pupils, a Chicago youngster who now is listed as first stringer.

Layden is experimenting with a combination which has Bob Wilke at left half, Vic Wojchowski at right, and Steve Miller at full. None of these three gives the backfield a triple-threat.

Joe O'Neil, end, may be called back to do the punting.

Wojchowski is quite a leather lugger, and is the logical successor to Shakespeare as a passer. The big Rumanian boy tossed the winning pass to Shakespeare in the Wisconsin game last autumn.

Wilke is the only left half with a monogram. The Hamilton, O., senior is an excellent runner, but there his capabilities stop, and Layden is fearful that his 163 pounds won't be the brunt of a stiff schedule. However, Bob may be another Layden, who played plenty of fullback with less poundage than Wilkie carries on his frame.

GAP AT CENTER WIDE

Miller showed flashes of brilliance last season. He made several long runs in the Ohio State game after Carideo was injured in the second quarter. He carried on the first Irish touchdown. However, he isn't shaping up any too well, and Larry Danbom, who spent the summer with Steve at Rock Island, Ill., is pressing him for the job.

The big problem in the line is the replacement of Solari and Pojman. Not a major returning letterman is a center, and only three of the reserves are pivot men. Johnny Fogel is now rated the first stringer. He was fourth last year, but this season has moved up ahead of Fred Munde, third in line in '35, and is showing well. Munde will keep him stepping.

Conditions along the rest of the line aren't too sorrowful. Ends are well fortified with O'Neill and Zwiers; tackles are satisfactory, with Cronin, Koczek, and Steinkemper, '35 lettermen, returning; and at the guard positions there is a wealth of good material.

The Irish schedule lists foes greatly improved over last year: Carnegie Tech, Washington University of St. Louis (a newcomer), Wisconsin, Pitt, Ohio State, Navy, Army, Northwestern and Southern California.

On paper, it appears that a rather sad season is in store for the Irish, but Ohio State will testify that you never can tell about the young men of Notre Dame.

Stanford Loses Paulman, Star Back, For Year

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Sept. 22.—Stanford university's football staff admitted disconsolately today that Bill Paulman, kicking star and mainstay of the backfield, probably will be lost to the team for the 1936 season as a result of an injury to his right ankle.

Paulman suffered a chipped bone in Saturday's scrimmage session, in which Jimmy Coffey, the other backfield veteran, also was injured.

Dr. F. Rith, team physician, advised Coach Thornhill that Paulman's injury might take a month or two to heal, although he will be discharged from the infirmary next week.

If Paulman isn't ready by mid-season, Thornhill will not use him at all during the present campaign.

COACH COACHES SON

An end of 147 pounds may be playing on Andy Kerr's Colgate eleven this fall. The welterweight is none other than Coach Kerr's son, Billy. The youngster at present is only a third-stringer, but his showing in practice games indicates that he will give the two men above him a stiff fight.

JUSTICE FAILS! 'HERO' HANSON TAKES BEATING

By PAUL VISSMAN

Howard "Hangman" Cantonwine may be a "heel" as far as women wrestling fans are concerned but he won his match last night when he defeated Billy (The Kid) Hanson at the Orange County Athletic Club.

The script introduced a new school of writing to wrestling fans because the hero (Billy Hanson) was taken to town by Old Villain Cantonwine and was smacked right out of an Indian death grip by a punch in the jaw. In the days of Horatio Alger the hero always won and virtue overcame villainy at the last minute.

Handsome Hanson had the women fans theoretically in his corner when the match started and took the first fall in 14:46 minutes with a series of head throws and a body press.

Cantonwine Suffers

Hanson took the second fall in 12:19 when Cantonwine gave up after suffering beautifully, in an Indian death grip. Just before the fall Cantonwine claimed a foul but changed his mind when Hanson smacked him a couple of times on the jaw and Referee Dick Rutherford failed to be interested. Along about this time Cantonwine started to play rough and bait the cash customers.

After the second rest period Hanson came out the picture of outraged virtue—outraged because he wanted to wrestle and Cantonwine insisted on being rough. The hero took a series of elbow slams over the heart and was gouged in the eyes. Hanson came back with a series of flying tackles and rolled into an Indian death grip. Then Cantonwine smacked him on the jaw. The third fall was in 6:33.

In a return match, following last week's riot, Steve Strelch won on a foul from "Iron Man" Miller in 9:40 minutes when the "Iron Man" kicked him in the groin after one of the roughest exhibitions that has ever been conducted in the local abattoir. After the decision Strelch and Miller staged a fist fight in the ring that damaged no one but excited the crowd.

Remove 'Infernal Machine'

Just at this time, on behalf of all the boys in the press row, Professor Sam Sampson should have given a vote of thanks and a Chau-tauqua salute to muffling, choking, or just removing the infernal machine that has been used to provide "music" between matches in the past. "Tike" Clinton, the erudite press agent, officiated as announcer and did a right nice job of it too.

Dick Daviscount, who is showing signs of becoming a "softie," wrestled 30 minutes to a draw with "Baron" Ginsberg.

"Tiny" Roebuck defeated "Bomber" Herman in the curtain raiser with a hiplock and body press after 5:05 minutes of sleep-walking.

Oaks-Portland Dispute Up To Devincenzi

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 22.—(UP)—The schedule for the playoff of the Pacific Coast league title has not yet been announced, W. C. Tuttle, president, announced today.

The series originally was set to open at Oakland and, after three games, be shifted to Portland, but J. Scheffer, Portland owner, requested Tuttle to transfer the series opener to Portland.

"It's now up to Mr. Devincenzi (Victor Devincenzi, Oakland president)," Tuttle said. "If he agrees to that arrangement, it will be satisfactory to me. It's all up to the two owners to decide."

Devincenzi left San Diego last night to return home. Tuttle said he would attempt to contact him later today on Scheffer's proposal.

Oakland last night entered the final play-off by defeating the San Diego Padres 7-6 in a hectic game that saw eight pitchers troop to the mound.

LOUGHNAN TO FIGHT IN S. F. OCTOBER 18

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 22.—(UP)—Tommy Loughnan will make another San Francisco appearance Oct. 16 when he meets a yet unnamed opponent under auspices of Urometer Tony Palazolo.

Loughnan probably will be signed with either Andre Lenglet, French fighter; Les Savoy, who recently knocked out Ford Smith of Montana; or Frankie Connelly.

MANFREDO, MILLER CLASH AT OLYMPIC

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 22.—(UP)—Al Manfredo of Fresno tonight defends his California welterweight championship in a 10-round bout at the Olympic auditorium against Ab Miller.

The Fresno Italian was only an even money bet against Miller who held him to a draw here several weeks ago when Miller was a heavy short-ender.

WHAT-A-BOY!

When Harold Lucas reported for Coach Harvey Stampler's football team at East Peoria, Ill., High school other members of the squad thought the boy was a college player who had been demoted. The youngster weighs 270 and stands better than six feet.

REPORTER'S NOTEBOOK

Ex-Saint Jack Robinson has been inducted as first string center with the Southern California freshmen. Tackle Jim Crowther is on the second team, Tackle Bob Reid the third. The Tro-babes open their season against Riverside Jaycee at the Coliseum Saturday in a preliminary to the S. C.-Oregon State affair.

"I read where Westminster will not be back in the National Night league next year," says Francis Penhall, the guy who makes up the deficit each season at the Aviators' park. "Isn't that interesting?"

"You can say for me that Westminster WILL be back in the league next summer; that is, unless some unforeseen obstacle develops between now and then."

The Red Raiders, struggling into the limelight with their best material in nearly a decade, claim fat and sassy Coach Al Claves of Citrus jaycee "changed the mind" of Ernie Poore about enrolling at Pomona so that Poore turned up at Citrus instead.

A big fellow, Poore was Covina high school's great fullback two years ago. I remember he was instrumental in defeating the Saints of Santa Ana.

The Eastern division of the Southern California Jaycee loop has been comparatively free of pigskin-pirating. The coaches have confined "prose-lying" to their own districts, thereby escaped the ill feeling that last year split wide open the Western division.

Lewis Wetherell has reason to feel proud of the 6-4, 6-4 showing he made against Fred Perry in the Pacific Southwest tennis tournament.

The Santa Ana got four games in each set off the world's No. 1 player yesterday.

Spectators said Wetherell showed not a trace of stagefright, traded strokes with the British master like an old hand.

Many feel Wetherell was a very unfunny young man in running afoul Perry so early in the tournament, but I don't know. In the past, when he was in the same half of the draw and that fate matched him with one of the great players of all time who probably was making his final start as an amateur, when he's an old man the matches Wetherell will remember are the ones with topnotchers, not hollow victories over unknowns.

George Lackaye hasn't even smiled much since his Stars folded up in front of the Huntington Beach Oilers yet he LAUGHED when he read a "rumor" that he was going to pay Lois Terry $35 a week to pitch for Santa Ana's all-star girls' softball team next year.

"They say inflation is coming but this is my first experience with it," said Lackaye. "Hell's bells; I'll pitch myself for that much dough."

While the Pacific Coast tourney will be a homecoming for three international stars—Miss Marble, Miss Jacobs, and Don Budge—one name will be conspicuously absent from the entry list. Helen Willis Moody probably will not enter the series matches, but may compete in mixed doubles.

With Don Budge the only first-bracketed player entered in the men's singles, outcome of that division apparently was pre-determined.

Fred Perry, world's No. 1 player as financial. The Southern California reasons described by officials an financial. The Southern California Tennis association reportedly has asked the Northern California association to share the expenses of bringing the English champion from the east.

GIANTS CAN CLINCH N. L. PENNANT TODAY

NEW YORK, Sept. 22.—(UP)—Bill Terry can lead his New York Giants to the National league pennant by winning today's double-header against the Philadelphia Phillies.

Two more victories will win the flag despite anything the St. Louis Cardinals or the Chicago Cubs do. The best the Cubs can possibly do is to tie for the championship and that would necessitate a clean sweep of their five remaining games while the Giants lost all of the eight games they have left.

Only by winning all of their six games while the Giants are losing seven of the last eight can the Cardinals hope for the league title. If the Cards lost as many as three, overtaking the Giants will be impossible.

St. Louis remained in the running for the championship yesterday by squeezing out a 5 to 4 decision over the Cubs.

BOMBER SEEKS 25TH K. O. IN PHILADELPHIA

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 22.—(UP)—Joe Louis will enter the ring tonight with a 13½-pound weight advantage over Al Ettore.

The chocolate fighter from Detroit weighed in at 203½. Ettore was nearly three pounds under his estimated weight. He scaled 189½.

By STUART CAMERON
(United States Sports Editor)

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 22.—(UP)—Al Ettore, Philadelphia's boastful tiger-man, and Joe Louis, the sepi, soccer, from Detroit, square off before 60,000 fans in municipal stadium tonight.

Loud-mouthed Al thinks Joe is "yellah." Betting odds are 4 to 1 that Joe'll knock that word right down his throat.

In fact, the odds were 8 to 5 that the vast throng which will pay more than $250,000 to see the scheduled 15-round bout will witness a knockout—with Ettore the victim. He would be Shuffling Joe's 25th kary victim.

Ettore is one of the most popular fighters in the City of Brotherly Love, ever known, largely because of three triumphs over Leroy Haynes, the KECA TO BROADCAST

Philadelphia Negro who stopped Primo Carnera twice. This opportunity is responsible to some extent for tonight's gate which will be the largest for boxing in the city's history, excepting only the first Dempsey-Tunney title bout.

There are many people who believe Ettore will tag the Brown Bomber with his second defeat in 30 professional bouts. Promoter Mike Jacobs of New York, associated with Herman Taylor of Philadelphia in staging the brawl, has insured himself against such an occurrence by signing Ettore to a four-year contract, in event Ettore wins. Jacobs has Louis under a three-year contract.

Ettore never has been an impressive fighter during his five-year professional career. He is 22, the same age as Shuffling Joe. In Ettore's 44 bouts he has registered only about 15 kayoes, and most of them were against virtually unknown scrappers. His main asset is a "troublesome" style and plenty of stamina. He comes in bobbing and weaving, hoping to evade blows until he is close.

Then he gets busy, hammering body and head with short hooks and uppercuts. He stays in close as long as he can, riding his opponent and trying him up. He's a marcher-in. Most boxing writers and close followers of the game expect Ettore to lose. However, they admit that if Al can weather the first five or six rounds he has a good chance to beat Louis, who never has been forced to take damaging body punishment.

Aside from Ettore's longer ring experience, all the other advantages are on the Bomber's side. Joe expected to scale 202 pounds at today's noon weighing-in, against 193 for Ettore. Al is a squat bulldog of a man, while Louis is nearly six-

TAXICAB LICENSING ORDINANCE PASSED

The new ordinance, regulating and licensing taxicabs, and designating exact locations of taxicab stands, was adopted unanimously by city council last night. The ordinance had been given first reading at the previous meeting. The ordinance permits specifying of the exact number of feet and the location of any parking or standing space reserved for such taxicab stand by the council. It also permits the council, at any time, to increase or decrease the amount of space allotted for taxicabs, and orders that space allotted be painted in red.

The setback line is provided for a possible future date when First street may be widened. George Ezelle was given permission, subject to approval and supervision of Electrical Inspector W. O. Packard, to erect a neon sign, 10x3 feet, at 1248 South Main, for Hammond Brothers corporation, dealer in floors and linoleum. The sign will hang horizontal.

...with Super Mileage and Power in Addition

IT'S the refinery, not advertising claims, that makes a super gasoline.

Sixteen months ago when the Wilshire Oil Co., Inc., began construction of its new $2,500,000 Dubbs Process Cracking Plant, we knew what the result would be—California's first gasoline to combine anti-knock, mileage and power in super quantities. What was expected is now an actual fact and ECONOMY SUPER-OCTANE takes the lead among quality motor fuels.

Expect these three outstanding features:—Super Octane that produces a new kind of smooth, anti-knock motor performance. Super Power that you can feel at the slightest touch of the throttle. Super Mileage because a natural high octane delivers more anti-knock miles to the gallon. Acid and gum-free by the exclusive Stratford Cold-Treat method. Try ECONOMY SUPER-OCTANE, the gasoline sensation of 1936. Sold by hundreds of independent dealers in California.

A GOOD NEIGHBOR

Railroad men are good neighbors. Every merchant likes railroad families for customers—churches and lodges like them for members. Steady and responsible, most railroad men own their own homes. They pay their bills, meet their taxes, keep up their insurance. Some of them live in your neighborhood. For the railroad is a home industry.

When you travel or ship via train you help your own community by making more railroad jobs for local men, supporting local families, patronizing local businesses. Western railroads and allied industries last year employed 750,000 workers.

The railroads themselves are good neighbors. They pay huge tax bills. They buy 70,000 commodities from factories, stores, farms, mines, quarries, lumber companies and diversified industries.

We invite you to use our services—fast freight with free pick-up-and-delivery of LCL—world's finest passenger transportation in sleeping cars or coaches at lowest cost—substantial savings on round trip tickets—air-conditioning—dependability—comfort—safety. . . . See the railroad agent.

Proud of our achievements, we appreciate the public's good will and increased patronage, and pledge continued progress

Panhellenic Is Arranging For Opening Party

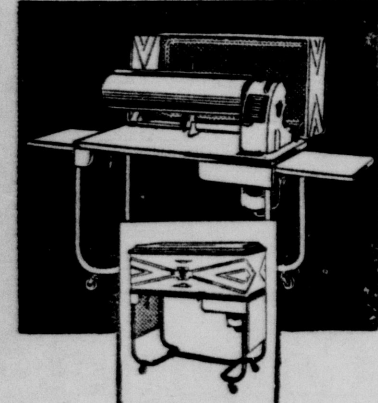

Those pleasurable anticipations with which Panhellenic society members approach a new year's program, promise their first fulfillment next Tuesday night when executive board members will put their opening party plans into effect. It has come to be an established custom that the year's first formal meeting will be with officers as hostesses, so last night Miss Ruth Bradley, Panhellenic treasurer, received board members in her home, 802 Cypress street, where party plans were made.

In the first place this party, to be held at 7:30 o'clock in Ebel lounge, will be one to which every member of a national sorority is especially invited. Cards are being sent out to all present, past and potential members of Panhellenic that the officers have been able to ascertain. In the case of those with whom they are not familiar and whose names may have been overlooked, they are asked to telephone the membership chairman, Mrs. Victor Hupp at 5460-J. She will make any necessary transportation plans as well.

Special emphasis will be placed upon securing the names of recent graduates, and enlisting their interest in affiliation with the society, for one of the plans upon which Panhellenic will focus this year, will be the formation of a Recent Graduates' group, with Mrs. E. M. Sundquist as sponsor.

While party plans took precedence over all other business matters at last night's meeting, there was one decision of the board that was of equal importance, and that was definite selection of the date of Saturday night, December 26, for the annual Panhellenic dance, always one of the chief social events of the holidays.

One o'clock was the hour for the event, with guests assembling for luncheon served at small tables centered with orange and orchid pompon dahlias. Sewing occupied the group for the remainder of the afternoon.

Fall Sessions Of Assistance League Opened

Cordial greetings between hostesses and guests were exchanged yesterday when Assistance League club members held their first autumn session in the delightful ranch home of the James Irvines, and their first reunion since return of the club founder, Mrs. Irvine, from her recent cruise to the Orient.

Always original in ideas for decorative effect, Mrs. Irvine yesterday achieved charm in her dining room with a touch of the exotic in the silver vessel of Egyptian design, which rode on a mirrored sea in the table's center. Amethyst glass and nodding dahlias bloomed completed the arresting picture. In the adjoining breakfast room where another group was served, graceful silver fish swam on the silver waves of the central table mirror.

In an interval between luncheon and contract, Mrs. A. G. Glegg gave a report of Day Nursery activities, the inspiration of Assistance League club and reason for its being. One of the direct results of her comprehensive report, was the decision to have one of the club members at the Day Nursery each year for a two and a half hour period, to supervise the small tots and assist in directing their energies.

Mrs. Howard Parsons is already at work on this schedule for members.

Only two were absent from yesterday's meeting, Mrs. C. Mortimer Plum and Mrs. J. A. George, whose places were filled by Mrs. Fred Rowland, Ebel president, and Mrs. Emory D. White, chairman of juniors, both official substitutes.

In serving chicken dinner, Mrs. Howard and Mrs. Endres had assistance of Mrs. Arthur Schade of New York City. Mrs. Charles Hossfeld poured coffee.

Layette shower gifts for Mrs. Howard were piled in a small cradle which centered the lace-spread dining table, with appropriate appointments including a pink parasol and a stork figure. Dinner Event Precedes Departure for East Departure of a little family group for a month's trip east, and recent arrival in the Southland of other relatives inspired a reunion held Sunday in the home of Mr. and Mrs. F. S. Quiggle, 1114 South Van Ness avenue.

The hosts' son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. F. D. Blower of Balboa Beach, with Mrs. Polly Blower and Miss Irene Blower of this city, left for the east immediately following dinner. The travelers will go to Ohio, Indiana, New York City and other eastern points.

Completing the little group of honor guests were the hosts' nephews, James and John Cherry of Craig, Neb., who expect to conclude their Southern stay the latter part of the week. They have been dividing their visit between the home of the Quiggles and that of Mrs. R. C. Short of Seal Beach. Present in addition to the four departing travelers and the two visitors from Nebraska were Mr. and Mrs. Short of Seal Beach; Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Woodham and Byron Short, Ontario; Mr. and Mrs. Quiggle and their son and daughter, Howard and Charlotte Quiggle.

Travel Section Enjoys Reminiscences of Summer Trips

That interim of summer months since Ebel's Second Travel section members disbanded for a vacation recess, was filled with interesting trips for the majority of members, echoes of which served to give charm to the autumn's first meeting yesterday in the home of the leader, Mrs. Theo A. Winbiger, 207 East Ninth street.

Mrs. Winbiger, Mrs. Emma L. French and Mrs. Mit Phillips joined as hostesses and had arranged an enjoyable luncheon interval. The dining table with its crystal bowl of amaryllis lilies and dahlias in the same rose pink, was lighted by pink and blue candles in crystal candelabra. Small tables nearby were given a similar decorative treatment.

Returning to the living room at the luncheon's close, Travelers heard Mrs. Winbiger's outline of programs to come, with hostesses announced for each monthly meeting. The travel theme will of course, be uppermost and for October, Jeanne Kay (Mrs. Norton Gaston) has promised to tell some of her experiences in the interior of China, where she went on the hunt for rare gems. Hostesses will be Mesdames W. W. Anderson, George R. Nelson and M. C. Williams.

Mrs. Winbiger introduced two new members, Mrs. F. E. Moore and Mrs. Ben C. Baker. She spoke also with regret of Mrs. J. H. Bell's resignation as treasurer, and told of the many flowers which Mrs. Bell sent for yesterday's session, Mrs. Elmer Barr Burns also resigned as secretary, and Mrs. Edna Machander was appointed as her successor.

After roll call answered with brief summer experiences, the two main talks were given by Mrs. F. W. Wieseman and Mrs. Burns, with a bit of interpolated music. Mrs. J. C. Hamill introduced David Crenshaw, pupil of Mrs. Nalle, who played very beautifully, "Allegretto" by Haydn, and "Chinese Dance" and "Reed Flutes" from Tschakowsky's "Nutcracker Suite."

Mrs. Wieseman told of her trip to Buffalo, N. Y., stressing the comforts of modern air-conditioned railway coaches which have revolutionized travel, and telling details of her reunion with relatives and friends of her young womanhood; a trip into Ontario, and especially her interest in the beautiful English china there on display. Incidentally she informed her audience that established designs of choice Haviland china could now be secured in ware as fine as the original, the output of an American firm.

Mrs. Burns took her audience with her on the trip to her summer home in the Quesnel valley in Canada, making her talk so sparkling with humor that everyone was reluctant to have her close the account. Disputes encountered because of heavy rains and landslides; the hospitality of Canadians; beauty of scenery, a stop at a famous "dude ranch," and countless other experiences were told in detail.

Several members were absent, but Mrs. Winbiger, Mrs. French and Mrs. Phillips had the pleasure of receiving Mesdames Clyde Horton, Edna Machander, Howard Wassum, Mit Phillips, M. C. Williams, Ben Baker, F. E. Moore, May G. Thompson, C. F. Cross, J. R. Medlock, Elmer Barr Burns, W. W. Anderson, F. W. Wieseman, J. H. Tompkins, J. C. Hamill, J. H. Walker, George Raeburn, G. R. Nelson, and one guest, Mrs. Emmett Elliott.

Early Evening Rites Held In Wedding Chapel

Early return of Mr. and Mrs. J. Milan Kennedy to the home awaiting them at 1739 East Central avenue, Balboa, is anticipated by friends of the young couple, interested in their marriage of Friday evening, September 13 in Santa Ana Wedding Chapel.

Complete simplicity was observed in the service which Rev. Earl C. Bloss, Chapel pastor, read at 6 o'clock. The bride, Miss Helen L. Gemberling of Balboa, was smartly attired in an autumn tulle in postman's blue, with which she wore black hat, slippers and gloves and a shoulder spray of gardenias.

Mrs. John L. Upson of this city, as matron of honor wore a tailored suit in deep blue with matching accessories and a gardenia corsage. Mr. Upson served as best man for Mr. Kennedy.

Immediately after the exchange of vows, the two couples left for Los Angeles. Mr. Kennedy had arranged a surprise feature for his bride by having a little group of friends assembled in readiness to welcome their arrival. Approach to the table was to the strains of Lohengrin's Wedding March, a courtesy on the part of Phil Harris, orchestra leader, a personal friend of the newly wedded couple.

Red and white pompon dahlias gave festive appearance to the table where covers were laid for the new Mr. and Mrs. Kennedy, Mr. and Mrs. Upson, Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. Munro, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert R. Smirto, Mr. and Mrs. Earl E. Wilson, Miss Alda Weaver, Santa Ana; Miss Dorothy Carlson, Mosses; Clifford Hall and Kenneth Gorton, Balboa. Mr. Kennedy's brother, James Kennedy, member of Everett Hoagland's orchestra, was a later arrival to complete the party.

Mr. Kennedy is a member of Newport Beach police department. His bride has been connected for the past ten years with Southern California Telephone company and has the position of P. B. X. instructor.

Surprise Shower

Latest in the compliments paid to Miss Helen Gemberling in advance of her recent marriage to J. Milan Kennedy, was a delightful shower at which Mrs. Earl E. Wilson and Miss Alda E. Weaver entertained last week in the home of Mrs. Wilson, 805 Bush street.

Introducing the varied program of the evening was presentation of an ivory-bound book to the party honoree, in which she discovered favorite recipes of each guest together with interesting snapshots. A round of Hollywood candlestick and its matching taper; Miss Gemberling receiving novelty stationery for second high score, and Mrs. Upson consoled with a hand-towel embroidered by Mrs. Wilson.

Franciscan pottery in turquoise and yellow formed shower gifts to the honor guest and while the many pieces were being admired, the hostesses busied themselves re-arranging card tables with embroidered linens and flowers for serving molded ice cream hearts, ice box cookies and coffee.

Miss Weaver and Mrs. Wilson included on their guest list with the honoree, Miss Dolly Cox, Mesdames George Schroder, Robert Munro, John Upson, Herbert Smith, Santa Ana; Miss Maxine Brand, Orange; Mrs. Ann Arrow-smith, Pasadena; Miss Olive Smith, Miss Evelyn Shaffer, Miss Glendene Seelman, Mesdames Dorothy Owens, Rae Griffin, Winifred Smith, Helen Wilson, Florence Collins, Los Angeles.

Surprise Affair Marks Couple's Silver Anniversary

Carried in the Register's "Twenty-Five Years Ago" column recently was notice of the September marriage of Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Pankey. So it was that members of Standard Life association learned that the Pankeys had been married 25 years, and proceeded with plans for a surprise celebration at the latest meeting of the organization in M. W. A. hall.

Unaware that plans were underway for a silver anniversary party, the bridegroom and bride of 25 years joined with other members in a grand march which was climaxed with a special service which had been arranged by Mrs. Clara McCord.

During the refreshment hour, Mr. and Mrs. Pankey were presented with a silver compote as a gift of the lodge.

T. L. Warren and Mr. and Mrs. J. Wiley Harris, who have September birthday anniversaries, were accorded special honors during the evening.

Star Officials Share Luncheon Honors

Eastern Star officials, headed by Mrs. Helen Edwards of Fullerton, grand marshal, were honored Saturday afternoon at a luncheon given in Buena Park Masonic temple by Associated Matrons' association of Orange county.

Todd of San Jose, worthy grand matron; Rita May Cooper of Sacramento, associate grand matron; Gertrude Conant, Sacramento, associate grand matron's "trailer"; Frank Cruze, associate grand patron, and Mrs. Cruze, worthy matron of Arlington chapter, Los Angeles; Mrs. James Tarpley and Ruth Jane Davis, deputies for Orange county.

Associate matrons from all over the Southland took part in the affair, so that more than 80 members and guests were in attendance.

Hostess Quartet Pays Pretty Courtesy to Marjorie Hoff

Friday, September 25 will be the wedding day of Miss Marjorie Hoff and Loren Hemphill, whose nuptial plans inspired a gala affair at which the bride-elect was complimented recently in the home of Mrs. C. A. Brownink, 702 Hickory street.

Mrs. Philip Gerrard, Mrs. Cleland Harbaugh, Miss Alice Whitten and Miss Vivian Switzer formed a hostess quartet, presiding over a charmingly arranged party.

Two games were introduced as diversion, with Mrs. Charles Morgan and Mrs. Harry Switzer winning prizes for their high scores in bridge and in monopoly. Miscellaneous gifts were showered upon the bride-elect.

Guests were seated at linen-spread tables late in the evening when angelfood dips frosted in pink and designed with wedding bells were served with lemon sherbet and coffee.

Present in addition to the four hostesses and their honoree, Miss Hoff were her mother, Mrs. Charles Hoff; the bride-elect's grandmother and aunt, Mrs. Anna Hoff and Mrs. Louis Hoff; Mesdames James Corbin, C. A. Brownink, Arthur P. Smith, C. N. Turner, E. L. Patton, Charles Morgan, Harry Switzer, Fay Whitton, Floyd Haskell, Warren Bramley, Miss Ruth Switzer; with two small children, Dorothy and Bobbie Hunt.

INITIAL FALL MEETING HELD BY CLUB GROUP

ORANGE, Sept. 22.—Mrs. Walter Kogler presided for the first time at the initial meeting of the Orange Woman's club held yesterday at the clubhouse. An autumnal note was stressed in the decorations of goldenrod and wild asters. The clubrooms had been newly decorated during the summer and colorful drapes replaced the former window coverings.

The flag salute was given under the leadership of Mrs. C. C. Bonbrake, district chairman of American citizenship, and "America" was sung, with Mrs. Ross Taylor, president of the Woman's club chorus, as leader. Mrs. William Webb, president of Anaheim Elbel club, was a guest of honor.

The program for the afternoon was offered by a trio, "Les Pompadours," cello, violin and piano. Poignantly sweet music of a number of great composers, including Schubert, Mendelssohn, Grieg, Bach, Rubenstein and Chopin comprised the entertainment, one strikingly beautiful number, a violin solo, being the earliest known written composition, the work of a French composer. The early French costumes of the players and a stage lighted by candles made an effective setting.

A meeting of the Second Toastmasters section at noon Friday at the clubhouse of the Woman's club chorus tomorrow at 9:30 a. m. and a Federal music project symphony concert for Friday evening were announced. Mrs. Leon DesLarzes has been chosen as director of the chorus.

Tea was served at the close of the meeting, with Mrs. Leon DesLarzes and Miss Sue Scarritt pouring. The table was covered with a beautiful cut linen cloth and centered with a white pottery bowl of yellow flowers. Three branched crystal holders held violet tapers. Members of the hospitality committee were hostesses.

New members introduced were Mrs. W. C. Armstrong, Mrs. L. F. Flander, Mrs. Lawrence Collins and Mrs. Joy Elder. Mrs. Catherine Steele and Mrs. C. F. Rowell assumed club membership after a year's absence from activities of the organization.

Brain Twizzlers

By F. D. Flint

You have probably seen some of the industrial villages scattered throughout the country which have been planned by large companies for their employees. One of these consists of sixty-four houses, all spaced identically.

One night a young man, who lived in one of the houses, decided to call upon a young lady who lived in another one of the houses. He had forgotten which one she lived in and had no way of finding out other than calling at each one to inquire. As it happened hers was the last one he called upon. Trace the poor man's trail from house to house until he reaches hers after calling at all the others. This should be done so that he makes only fourteen turns, the fewest number possible. The illustration shows their positions.

Answer to Yesterday's Twizzler
The clerk killed Mrs. Smith to save the hotel's standing. The daughter Mary, did not reveal the murder because she had committed a criminal offense by bringing a Leper into the hotel.

STORIES IN STAMPS

By I. S. Klein

MICHAEL, THE BRAVE

VLADE, the Impaler, perhaps the cruellest despot in history, was on the throne of Wallachia, in the 15th century, under the suzerainty of the Ottoman Empire. Occasionally the peasants revolted, only to be crushed ruthlessly by the Turkish troops. For more than 100 years, the people had to furnish men, arms and food—and even temporary wives—to the Turkish soldiers who passed through their land to Hungary and Transylvania.

Then, toward the end of the 16th century, arose a new leader—Michael, who was called "The Brave." Protesting the system Turkey had of farming out his country to outsiders, for the taxes they could get out of his people, he raised an army of patriots, united his forces with those of the Moldavian prince, Aaron, and massacred the Turkish guards and settlers in one night. The Sultan was forced to make terms with Michael, giving the people, who later were to unite as Rumanians, their first taste of liberal government.

Michael, the Brave, is honored on three different stamps of Rumania. One is shown here.

Drop Plans For Two Tango Measures On H. B. Ballot

CITIZENS WILL CAST VOTES ON ONE PROPOSAL

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Sept. 22.—The question of permitting the establishment of tango parlors here will be answered by the residents of the city on November 3 as the result of action taken by the city council last night. The council, in a special session, passed a resolution authorizing the placing of an initiative measure calling for the licensing of tango parlors on the ballot.

The measure, which was presented to the council three weeks ago over the signature of 400 residents of Huntington Beach, calls for an annual license fee of $5 per chair or a minimum of $500 a year. A proposal considered by the council last week for the licensing of the tango games at the rate of $25 per chair or a minimum of $2500 a year, was dropped last night. The proposition which will be placed on the ballot limits the number of tango parlors, or similar establishments in the city, to two. The proposition was submitted to the board of supervisors today, with a request that it be placed on the ballot.

In answer to questions concerning a WPA project or the repairing of 16,000 lineal feet of sidewalks, City Engineer Harry Overmeyer announced that the project would get under way soon. Repairing of the damaged sidewalks will cost approximately $1500, Overmeyer said.

PRIZES IN GARDEN CONTEST TO BE AWARDED OCTOBER 1

GARDEN GROVE, Sept. 22.—Marigolds, zinnias, verbenas and asters in a riot of color brighten the gardens of more than 30 Garden Grove homes this fall as a result of a contest just concluded by Garden Grove Recreation center, with announcement made today of the winners in the first annual event. Prizes will be awarded the winners October 1 at 2:30 p. m. when the Washington P. T. A. of Garden Grove will hold a meeting.

To Wilma Du Frain will go the sweepstakes prize for her attractive garden, as well as a number of blue ribbons for other divisions in which she scored. Wilma's home garden includes a patch of purple verbenas, with which she used a yellow Colonial lady figure for a marker. Paused in the midst of a square of red verbenas in her garden is a white bunny marker. Such arrangements of flowers and markers made Wilma's entry one of the most artistic in the community, according to Mrs. Elsie Millman, who with Glenn Darch was director of the contest.

Plants were distributed among the Washington school summer playground students early in the summer by Garden Grove Recreation commission, of which Rodney Collins is president.

Many reasons are given for the desire for inflation, he said, including the belief that inflation would raise the price of goods above cost of production, that the economic trouble is neither consumption or production, but lack of a medium of exchange.

He said an increase of gold or silver and an increase of government obligations make available a potential credit which can support a great increase in business and a consequent demand for credit and currency.

The speaker was introduced by John Crosley, principal of the high school.

Both the woodworking and pottery classes will continue but new quarters are being sought, to replace the outdoor patio on El Paseo, which has been provided by Charles Bothamley. Application is pending for the use of all or part of the Pomona college laboratory. Several hundred pupils have availed themselves, during the summer season, of the various recreational facilities, which, under general direction of R. R. Rusick of Santa Ana, are locally supervised by S. W. Durand, with Henriette Stowell, of San Clemente, acting as co-ordinator.

THE foot of a spider is covered in toothed claws, somewhat resembling a comb. Other insects make no effort to walk on the tiny lines, and become hopelessly entangled.

HOME OWNERS PROTEST PLAN FOR SIDEWALKS

PLACENTIA, Sept. 22.—Several residents of Melrose street last night voiced objections to sidewalk improvements. They declared that the expense of placing a new sidewalk to the property owners would be as nothing compared to the incidental expense of adjusting steps and grades for entry into the property in some instances.

Members of the city council had planned to construct a new sidewalk along with other improvements, and to make it to grade, which would require cutting away banks of the property. The actual cost of sidewalk placement would be 10 cents a lineal foot, with 12 cents a foot for curb placement.

Those appearing in protest were Mrs. Cora Pickenpaugh, Mrs. A. Siefert and L. Meyers, property owners. The council agreed to make a further investigation of the incidental expenses.

Members of the council voiced an opinion that all truck drivers or trucking companies should be required to pay a license, or that none should be so required after Chief of Police Gus Barnes and City Clerk Nellie Cline had said that some of the orange packing house trucks and others had so far failed to pay licenses and had asked exemption. Councilman Clarence Haiber said he thought the law should either be enforced or withdrawn.

The council agreed to pay $22.40 for a light bill for the playground.

Kay is assigned to the western division of the service. MOVIE BLAINE, apprentice pilot, pays her marked attentions. Monte is darling, romantic, but Kay is more interested in Ted. Ted returns from a trip to the Orient and takes Kay to dinner. Later they have a long talk. Then Ted asks Kay to marry him. NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY CHAPTER XII

TED talked on, presenting his views on what he called "this marriage business." He said, "You've got to plan for marriage, just as we planned, years and years, for the trans-Pacific flight. None of this heady, romantic stuff! You've got to build, stone on stone, to achieve something that will endure without mishap."

It was the most unromantic proposal of which she had ever heard. And this was Kay Dunn, who had wanted the man-of-her-heart to sweep her off her feet and say, "Kay, I adore you. I can't live without you!"

But when Ted had finished talking he sat there, waiting for her answer. She simply gazed at his eyes and saw what she wanted to see. The touch of his hand was reassuring. His kiss, when she said, "Yes," welded her heart and mind. But, even as she accepted him, she felt again the fear that had tormented her before. Was Ted asking her to marry him merely to make a home for Dickie? Her mind—but not her lips—asked the question, "Are you sure you love me or do you simply want a well-ordered life, a life like the charted course of the Flying Mariner?"

She did not say these things to Ted, because she knew that they would hurt. At the moment she could not doubt his sincerity. "I do love you dearly," he repeated. "I've known it—for ever so long. There was a time when I fought against it. I didn't think it was fair to you."

"Ted, you dear!" Kay said, snuggling closer to him. "You should never fight against loving a woman. When you do, you're lost."

They sat there, looking out across the lights of the bay, each of them with the same thoughts—planning their future. For a long while neither spoke. "Until death do us part," Kay murmured blissfully.

"And those are big words," Ted said.

MOST CORRUPT GOVERNMENT ON EARTH

Last week being Constitution Week and the Presidential Election this year being based largely on how much central power the Federal Government should have, it might be timely to quote what Thomas Jefferson wrote to Gideon Granger. We quote:

"Our country is too large to have all its affairs directed by a single government. Public servants at such a distance, and from under the eye of their constituents, must, from the circumstances of distance, be unable to administer & overlook all the details necessary for the good government of the citizens, and the same circumstance, by rendering detection impossible to their constituents, will invite the public agents to corruption, plunder & waste. And I do verily believe, that if the principle were to prevail of a common law being in force in the U. S. (which principle possesses the general government at once of all the powers of the state governments,) it would become the most corrupt government on the earth."

ARBITRATION

People are usually willing to arbitrate when they have nothing to lose. The shipping association is willing to arbitrate the question of labor relations in the present proposed settlement. They are willing to do this because the labor organizations now have a closed shop and the association has everything to gain and nothing to lose.

At Salinas, where there is not a closed shop, the laboring groups are willing to arbitrate because they have everything to win and nothing to lose and the growers are not willing to arbitrate. They have an open shop and are afraid of losing it.

It is usually the man who has everything to win and nothing to lose who is willing to arbitrate. There are some things, however, that should never be arbitrated. No one has the right to arbitrate whether men shall all have equal opportunity. This is contrary to the principles in the Constitution and the principles in any government that very greatly adds to the welfare of all the people.

RAPID DRIVING

It is easy to reason with one's self that when the road is clear (apparently) you have the right to drive as rapidly as you care to; that if you want to take your life in your own hands, it is your business and no one else's—that is your personal liberty. This right, however, has its limitation. In the first place, one is never sure whether there is some one else who is likely to suddenly appear; in the next place, even if there be no other party in the territory, there is danger of property damage to others, as well as property damage of the owner of the machine.

The roads were built by the state and society and are not the private property of the operator of the machine. Even in the final analysis, the driver of the machine, if he has an accident and kills himself, puts the state to immediate expense and very often he has a family that needs his help and protection and this adds to the burden of the state, if he is killed by rapid driving.

Remember, when you are tempted to drive rapidly, that your rights have certain definite limitations.

STALIN ILL

It was reported by telegraphic dispatch that Stalin is ill with hardening of the cardiac artery. If this be true and he is obliged to give up control or succumb to the illness, his successor might mean much, not only to Russia but to the world at large.

It is generally believed that War Commissioner Klementi Voroshiloff probably will be his successor.

NEWS BEHIND THE NEWS

BUDGETING

WASHINGTON, Sept. 22.—Certain administration agencies are growing in an undertone about not being able to get enough money in the budget for next year, which is now being prepared. One independent commission has had its estimates thrown back twice now for reductions. Another has been told to cut its estimate 10 per cent.

In fact, all departmental budget officers, except those of the army and navy, are complaining, although not officially, of course, because they dare not speak their minds. (The army and navy are going to be allowed further increases over this year's record allowance of $200,000,000.)

This inner bickering is a natural part of budget making, but what makes it appear important this year is that the complainants have been stilled by inside word that President Roosevelt has issued general cutting orders to his budget-maker, Dan Bell.

PROSPECTS

Lamentations among the spenders seem to be too sincere to justify suspicion that they are putting on an act for campaign purposes. At the same time, they know as well as anyone that such a situation is campaign ice under Mr. Roosevelt's sled, and that their grief may be premature.

A skeptical non-partisan outlook on the prospects must not see these following factors up front in the fiscal foreground:

(1) The size of the budget will be determined largely by relief needs and appropriations. No one now can have the slightest idea what these will be for the next budget year, which begins next July 1. The assumption is general that the need will be less, but nobody knows how much.

(2) The cuts now being made in confidential negotiations affect only the regular departmental expenses, which amounted to only about 8 per cent of this year's total expenditures, excluding the army and navy. Thus, they cannot be considered, and may not show a reduction when balanced with the increases for national defense.

Significant in this respect was the announcement last week by Treasury Secretary Morgenthau that no news about the budget will be given out officially before election.

(3) Incidents in Spain seem to have created a vague but general impression that the rebels have some deep-rooted grudge against Americans. The bombing of the Kane, the reported mistreatment of American newsmen by the rebels, etc., appear on the surface to reflect some general unexplained condition.

The answer is they do not. Subsurface point to the opposite deductions.

When the rebels entered a large city in the south, they picked out the American consul to notify him first to get foreigners out. No other foreign consul was thus singled out. Similarly, the rebel responses regarding the Kane incident were accepted by officials here as being unusually frank and friendly. The same spirit has been mutually expressed in various routine cooperative efforts between our diplomats and the rebels.

Sympathies here are still largely with the rebels.

Note—The official conviction that the rebels would win has been strengthened since it was first reached here about two weeks ago.

PERPLEXITIES

Nearly everyone in political life has declared himself on the presidential contest, except two United States senators from the same state. They are the honorables Nye and Frazier, who are more or less Republicans from North Dakota.

The two are reported to be in a quandary ten feet deeper than the one in which Robert Benchley spent ten years. They cannot make up their minds. What with the money they got from Mr. Roosevelt for the drought, their friendship for Lemke (Frazier was co-author of the Frazier-Lemke inflation bill) and the fact that Landon is the nominee of their party.

Both have announced themselves for the Republican candidate for governor, but have uttered nary a sound about the more important matter.

Those who have encountered Frazier in deep thought here lately

DIFFERENT IDEAS OF HAPPINESS

In "The Raven", the life story of Samuel Houston is very interestingly set forth. Sam Houston was the first governor of Texas and he lived for years among the Indians. In the book, the author quotes what Washington Irving scribbled on a fly-leaf of the journal he kept at the time he made Sam Houston's acquaintance in the West. It clearly illustrates the different ideas of what people have of the word we probably use as often as any other word, happiness. Irving quotes an old Indian as saying:

"Old Father Vail addressed the Indians on the necessity of industry as a means to happiness. An Indian replied, 'Father, I don't understand this kind of happiness you talk of. You tell me to cut down trees—to lop it—to make fences—to plough. This, you call being happy. I no like such happiness. When I go to St. Louis, I go to see Chouteau, or Clarke. He says, 'hello' and Negro comes in with great plate with cake, wine and he say eat, drink. If you want anything else he say 'hello'—three, four, five, six Negro come and do what we want. That, I call happy. He no plough. He no work. He no cut wood.'

There are certainly different kinds of happiness!

LAWNS DYING OUT

There have been some beautiful lawns in Orange county die this summer. There is quite a difference of opinion as to the cause. Some contend that it is due to worms cutting off the grass below the surface; other people contend that it is not the worms but a lichen, or parasite, due to certain atmospheric conditions.

Albert Heinecke of East Santa Clara avenue, who has had one of the most beautiful lawns in the county and has made a great study of vegetation and been very successful at it, is of the opinion that it is not a worm. He points out that there are plenty of worms where there is shade but the brown spots do not seem to bother the grass in the shady places and that the worst brown spots, or the worst dying, come out in the sun. He used a spray to stop this parasite affecting the grass in the sun and has been fairly successful in checking it, while others, who did not use this to counteract it, have been losing their lawns.

It is a subject of much interest to people of Orange county, as there is nothing so attractive about a home as a beautiful lawn. Anyone who can help solve this problem will be of great service to the community.

PAPER PROFITS

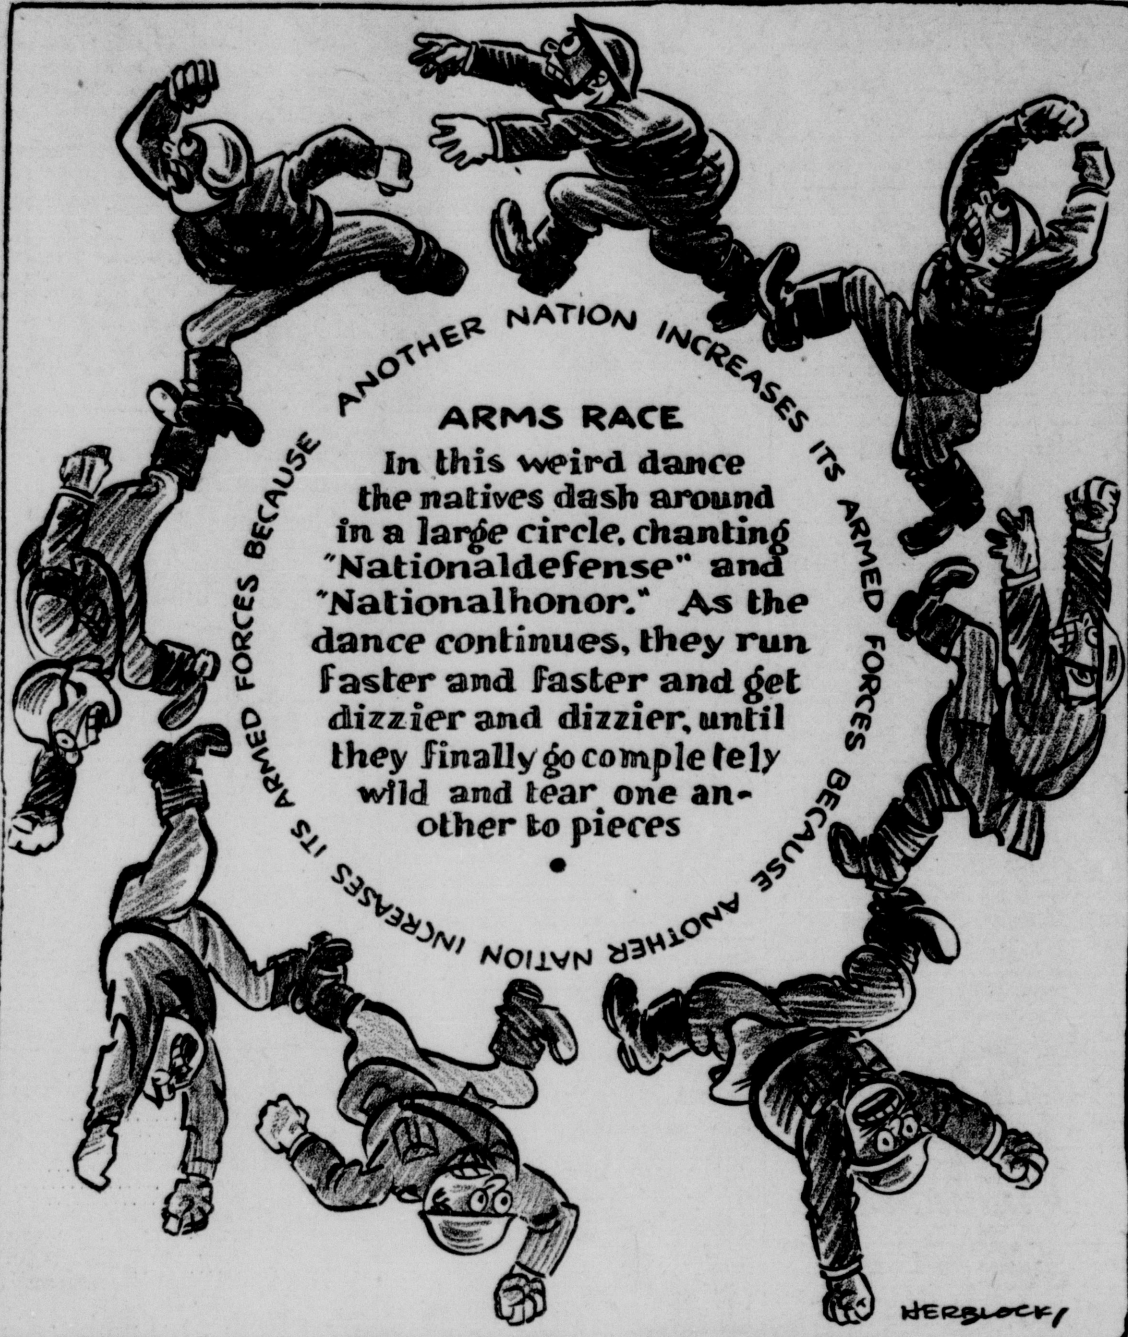

As long as we continue to have the present banking system, which makes it legal for bankers to be counterfeiters, we will continue to have paper profits and the accumulation of wealth by people who did not produce it. These kinds of things stimulate the belief in production for use.

Profits that are the result of combination for restraint of trade or accumulation of wealth because of granting special privileges to certain groups are objectionable. Profits that result from production of new wealth and a by-product of service, are a benefit to every working man and not something to be prevented.

A NEW RULE

It used to be an axiom that "the man who pays the fiddler writes the tune". This, however, is not now true in many cases. All of the Works projects, in which musicians are paid for playing, the workers, who are not musicians, are paying for the musicians but they have no way of telling the musicians what tunes they want played. So, the rule does not work any more. Musicians on the PWA can only guess what the public, who is paying the bills, wants played.

The Strange Inhabitants of the Planet Earth

Little Benny's Note Book

BY LEE PAPE

We was eating supper, being baked ham and spinach, and ma said, I had quite a matter of conscience to wrestle with this afternoon, Willyum.

What happened, did you have too many points counted for you on your bridge score? pop said, and ma said, I don't expect to live to see the day when that happens, it's always invariably the other way around. As a matter of fact I was shopping this afternoon and I suddenly remembered that you like baked sweet potatoes with ham, so I decided to call Nora up and tell her not to put any potatoes on to boil and I'd bring home some sweet potatoes, ma said.

A splendid idea, but where are they? pop said, and ma said, I'm coming to that as gradually as I can. Well, I found a telephone booth and put in a five cent piece and got Nora on the fone and give her the instructions, and I'd no sooner hung up the receiver when plunk plunk my 5 cents dropped out before my astonished eyes. There was evidently some mistake, and mistake in my favor, which by the way never seems to happen in my bank balances. Well, there I was, faced with a problem. I certainly didn't want to keep any money that didn't belong to me, even 5 cents, she said.

You mite of dropped it right back into the slot, or didn't that occur to you? pop said, and ma said, Of course it did, but it seemed such an unimaginative thing to do. And then the solution occurred to me. I'd just erase the whole fone call and the fone company and I would be where we both started, she said.

How the dooce could it do that? pop said, and ma said, It was simplicity itself. I decided it mite be too late to bake sweet potatoes, so I ate them. I got home, and Nora would still have time to boil white potatoes, so I just didn't bring any home after all. In other words the fone call was of absolutely no use and certainly not worth 5 cents or even one, she said, and pop said, It's a woman's world and men don't even get sweet potatoes.

Meaning him.

Have an idea he may resolve in favor of his friendship for Lemke. Nye, who is not as close to Lemke, is reported to be in favor only of continuing indefinitely the munitions lecture tour upon which he has been embarked since the closing of congress.

Politics is certainly mixed up these days.

PIONEERING

One of the original champions of the Matanuska resettlement experiment in Alaska has returned from a visit with a somewhat less enthusiastic slant on the way it is working out. The original plan was to give each settler forty acres, with cattle, horses, etc., at a cost of $2,000. The $2,000 has been used up and each settler has but ten acres. It will cost about $12,000 per settler to go through with the original program.

The fundamental trouble is they have no market for their products. However, they can probably keep themselves going under their present arrangement.

Day By Day In Washington

BY DAVID LAWRENCE
(Copyright, 1936)

Prefatory Note: Today's dispatch completes the summary of the New England states by describing the situation in Massachusetts.

BOSTON, Mass., Sept. 22.—The word "Democrat" has been made so unpopular in Massachusetts by the administration of Governor James M. Curley that there are two negative waves of sentiment here, an anti-Curley and an anti-Roosevelt vote.

Judging by the intensity of the feeling which has been engendered, Massachusetts may go Republican by anywhere from 50,000 to 75,000 votes which is quite a turnover from the 63,000 victory won here four years ago by President Roosevelt.

It must not be forgotten that Al Smith carried this state by 16,000 in 1928 polling a total of 792,000 votes and that his total was increased in 1932 by only 8000 votes to about 800,000. To accomplish this Mr. Roosevelt had the aid of Al Smith.

This year the former governor of New York who was the standard bearer of his party in 1928 will be found on the stump in the bay state. This together with the Lemke-Coughlin vote means such a sizeable perfection that one can hardly see how Mr. Roosevelt can keep the Landon plurality down even to the 50,000 mark though conservative estimates by well-informed persons put that down as the minimum Republican tally.

There have been some indications of a statistical nature which would tend to prove this contention. Thus in the Democratic primary last week, Governor Curley won the nomination for the United States senate faced nearly 150,000 hostile votes.

Henry Cabot Lodge, Jr., a grandson of the Republican senator of a generation ago won the Republican nomination for the senate in a primary in which he had relatively little opposition. Yet the Lodge vote was far in excess of the Curley vote. It seems a safe bet that the candidacy of Thomas O'Brien, running mate of Representative Lemke on the Coughlin ticket, which made its appearance as a protest move in the senatorial primaries means third party trouble for the Democrats.

The Curley regime is unpopular. The voters of Massachusetts resent what they consider to have been high-handed and arbitrary methods in government. Also one of Curley's henchmen has been ordered by lower court decree to return certain funds supposedly misused in the conduct of a city treasurer's office. All this has produced a very unpleasant impression in Massachusetts and judging by the way electorates behave when they see state government waste and political spoilsmanship at its height there will be a protest vote of mammoth proportions.

To put it another way, the Curley regime is tied up so closely with President Roosevelt's administration that a general tendency is to vote anti-Democratic as a matter of course. Mr. Roosevelt in other words has a big liability in the Curley regime but he cannot ditch his political ally who alone made the fight for him in the 1932 primaries when Al Smith and his friends carried it against Roosevelt.

The president has sent his son James here to help manage the campaign and look out for his interests. He used to live here and knows the political situation very intimately, in fact he took an active part in the last campaign.

The Republicans have an excellent organization, one of the best they have ever had. There is harmony in the ranks of the leaders and it looks at present writing as if young Lodge will be elected United States senator and that the entire Republican ticket will be swept into office next November for the first time in many years.

National issues are important here but this is a case where the state issue seems to predominate and will influence the voting against the Democratic ticket.

Governor Landon has considerable strength of his own here as was manifest in his remarkable showing in the pre-convention primaries but it is not detracting from his prestige in the slightest to say that he will win Massachusetts' electoral vote very largely because of the anti-New Deal and anti-Curley feeling of a large number of independent as well as Democratic voters.

"Yes," said the teacher wearily. "I did say 'Put your hand down.' He was about the thirty-fifth that morning. A steady procession. Open and shut, open and shut, tramp, tramp, tramp. I can't teach in a procession. Anyway, if he had had any sense he could have walked out, couldn't he? How am I to know who really needs to go and who is just escaping work?"

When he interrupts his lesson even for a few minutes he loses the best part of it. Of course this is going to mean a great loss of work and threaten his class standing. Perhaps it might be well to have the doctor see him? A healthy child usually has no such difficulty."

This reduces the number of children leaving the room to the group who actually need to go. Never punishes a child for leaving the room. Never forbid one to go. Don't require them to ask to go as that means an interruption and your reason for reducing the excursionists lies right there. Every interruption costs valuable lesson time. You do not care about the matter save for that reason. School time is highly valuable, and class work must be carried on with as little noise as little interruption as possible.

Thoughts On Modern Life

BY GLENN FRANK

OUR FLEXIBLE CONSTITUTION

The Constitution of the United States is happily a very flexible character of government.

There are two groups of Americans who hold dangerous views about the Constitution, viz:

(1) Those who would take undue advantage of its flexibility by holding that, under the Constitution, leadership should be free to do whatever it thinks best at any given period in the nation's life.

(2) Those who would decry its flexibility by holding that the Constitution is an iron-clad document that can be laid alongside any legislation and a purely mechanical and infallible judgment on the legislation secured.

The fact is that there are few provisions in the Constitution that are so rigid that latitude of judicial interpretation is not possible and essential.

The fact is that the men who wrote the Constitution meant that growth, interpretation, and modification should be always possible within the letter of the Constitution.

It is this flexibility that has enabled the American Constitution to stand while characters and governments all around it the world over have fallen.

Had the Constitution been as rigid as some would have us believe it is, it would long since have been in the discard.

Reactionaries think a flexible Constitution makes for instability. This is not true. A flexible Constitution is a safeguard to social stability. The world is being rocked by all sorts of social earthquakes. It is good to have a government flexible enough to bend without breaking under the strain.

"Yes," said the teacher wearily. "I did say 'Put your hand down.' He was about the thirty-fifth that morning. A steady procession. Open and shut, open and shut, tramp, tramp, tramp. I can't teach in a procession. Anyway, if he had had any sense he could have walked out, couldn't he? How am I to know who really needs to go and who is just escaping work?"

is busily engaged in their work there will be very few such interruptions. It is when the lessons are dragging, or something uninteresting is afoot, that the procession starts.

Be strict in the observance of recess. Never should he be re-leave the classroom and have a breath of fresh air, have a drink and go to the toilet. This is a "must" in the lower grades. Never should a child be deprived of his recess. Never should he be refused permission to leave the room. There is no problem here in the well-conducted classroom. When it arises it is a fault in the class management always.

Begin the first day: Have a book and pencil tied by the door. Nobody asks to leave the room. He who needs to go tiptoes softly on his way, writes his name, the time he left, and the time he returned. Some make a virtue of this, but they are soon discovered. The teacher does not forbid even them to leave the room. She takes the book and sends a report home that says, "John Henry was obliged to leave the room three times a day, sometimes five times, with the result that he lost many of his lessons. When he interrupts his lesson even for a few minutes he loses the best part of it. Of course this is going to mean a great loss of work and threaten his class standing. Perhaps it might be well to have the doctor see him? A healthy child usually has no such difficulty."

This reduces the number of children leaving the room to the group who actually need to go. Never punishes a child for leaving the room. Never forbid one to go. Don't require them to ask to go as that means an interruption and your reason for reducing the excursionists lies right there. Every interruption costs valuable lesson time. You do not care about the matter save for that reason. School time is highly valuable, and class work must be carried on with as little noise as little interruption as possible.

The children who ask to leave the room for recreation purposes are not interested in the lessons. You will find that when the class leaving the room is familiar with the problem that leaving the room, or rather not leaving the room, places before him every school term.

"I couldn't get Vincent to go to school this afternoon, and I don't blame him. The idea. He asked the teacher for permission to leave the room and she said, 'Put your hand down.' He couldn't help himself and had an accident. That's a fine thing for a teacher to do. She ought not to be a teacher. She ought to be made to leave the school. If Vincent is sick I'll sue her for damages. Something ought to be done about it."
